
WE NOMINATE

James Alfred Perkins, former president of Cornell University, a past vice-president of the Carnegie Corporation of New York and the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, and a member of the Princeton School Board (1953-1959), who shall be returning to Princeton next month as chairman of the board and director of the Center for Educational Enquiry. This newest addition to the ever-growing cluster of Princeton's educational-research organizations is primarily designed to "provide institutional consultation on a limited number of high-priority problems of educational policy."

In establishing the Center, the 58-year old Perkins, a native of Philadelphia, Pa., has had the encouragement and support of the Educational Testing Service which, in the early years, will serve as fiscal agent and provide logistical backing. Funding for the enterprise will be provided by institutional or foundation grants for specific projects, as well as by gifts and grants for general operational purposes from a variety of sources, including The Ford Foundation, the Carnegie Commission on Higher Education and the Clark Foundation.

As the new Center moves to center stage, Perkins, still recovering from the belts and bruises he absorbed on the Cornell Campus last spring, feels that the fledgling enterprise's efforts will be concentrated on the following: "governance and modernization of the university both in this country and abroad; the university's responsibilities in international education; international strategies for educational development, and a more equitable access and transition to higher and professional education by black Americans." At the outset the European Community Institute for University Studies will be the European partner of the Princeton-New York Center.

It was four years ago that Perkins, a former vice-president of his alma mater, Swarthmore College, and an outstanding scholar-teacher in Princeton's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, delivered the Stafford Little Lectures at Princeton, In this distinguished series, entitled "The University in Transition," Perkins suggested that the University was becoming a victim of its own success because of the increasing external demands being made upon it by society and then proposed systems of cooperation between universities, suggesting that the self-sufficient university community is a "nostalgic dream."

A member of the 12-man General Advisory Committee of the United States Arms Control and Disarmament Agency, a trustee of the highly controversial nonprofit Rand Corporation, and a member of the Council of Foreign Relations, Perkins is also a member of the National Academy of Public Administration, a trustee of the Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center of New York and the Adlai E. Stevenson Foundation, and is a director of the Chase Manhattan Bank and the Overseas Development Corporation. He was elected to membership in the American Academy of Arts and Sciences in 1965, the same year he was the recipient of the gold medal of the National Institute of Social Sciences.

For adding still another dimension to this community's educational responsibilities; for suggesting that out of the chaos of the present may come the hopes for a more tranquil, more rewarding future; for urging others to share his understanding of the "University of Transition"; he is our nominee as

OCTOBER 15

Moratorium Day. Observances of the Vietnam Moratorium in Princeton ranged from a marathon teach-in Tuesday night in the University's Alexander Hall, to peace vigils at churches, to a statement by the superintendent of Princeton's public schools that it seemed more appropriate for children to stay in school on Moratorium Day than to take the day off.

Borough Council Tuesday night unanimously passed a Vietnam resolution drafted by Councilman James Andrews and seconded and amended slightly by Councilman Robert Hendry.

The Council vote was 5-0. Councilman Charles Cornforth being absent. It was an easy confrontation, compared to the tension that characterized the Vietnam discussion before Township Committee last week.

But Mrs. Ann Ryan, 135 Bayard Lane, who requested the resolution from Council, said she wanted to know, from every candidate for public office, exactly how he stands on Vietnam.

"You mean you'll blackmail somebody who doesn't agree?" shot back Council Robert Hendry, who is running for re-election.

"I will not allow any discussion of Vietnam on a partisan basis," warned Mayor Henry S. Patterson. He added his own view that "anything anyone can do to bring the war to a speedy and reasonably honorable end, I am in favor of."

(In a statement this week, Robert Cawley, Republican candidate for mayor, and Christine St. John, Republican Council candidate, said, "Everyone wants the Vietnam war to end soon. This demonstration of public opinion, whatever develops, could provide a better idea of the public's mood for the present administration's guidance.")

The discussion before Council was not overtly political, although Mrs. Ryan is an active worker for the Democrats, and both Committeemen Andrews and Hendry are Democrats, too. But Republican Councilmen Alan Carrick and Fred Peterson voted their "yes" without dissension.

From the audience, former Councilman William Walker chided Council for its action. "I question whether this is a subject for municipal officials, as a body. Although as individuals you should indeed act."

Besides, said Mr. Walker, how did Councilmen know the way their Borough constituents felt about the matter?

"Council DOES have the collective right to act on this matter," replied Mayor Patterson. "If we wanted to take a straw vote in the community on everything we vote on, we'd be paralyzed!"

Mrs. Ryan had proposed that Council adopt the Chicago City Council resolution of last May. (She made the same suggestion to Township Committee.)

But Mr. Andrews dismissed it as "childish, pejorative and too highly specialized," and produced his own 200-word statement which Council then unanimously adopted:

"The members of the Common Council of the Borough of Princeton are seriously disturbed at the lack of apparent progress toward the end of the tragic devastation of Viet Nam, and the equal lack of progress in removing American forces from direct involvment in the conflict. . . .

"We do not believe that Viet Nam deserves the place it has assumed in our country's priorities, and we are equally threatened by the power that this situation has made available to the radical left and the militaristic right. We do not believe that our national interests are served in any degree equal to the sacrifice of national treasure, including the priceless treasure of human life, that the war is costing us.

"Mr. President, we want an end to the war. We would prefer to end the war with a democratic government in power over a peaceful and secure Republic of Viet Nam. But we are willing to go on record as preferring early peace.

"We urge you to get us out of Viet Nam as quickly as possible, so that our number one national concern may once again become the business of providing for every American a full share of the responsibilities and benefits of American citizenship, and that our second national concern may remain the extension of these values of life to as many of the world's peoples as may wish to adopt them."

As a sequel to last week's exchange before Township Committee, William L. Wilson has released copies of a letter he has sent to President Nixon. Committeeman Wilson opposed formal action on the part of Township Committee.

"There must be one overriding objective: to stop the taking of human lives," Mr. Wilson has written. "We as world leaders, as a humane people and as believers in a God of all Men, have a more noble and sacrificial duty than even those of preserving the lives of our own men and saving our treasure to spend on ourselves. The duty is to pursue a course that will result in the maximum saving of human lives, both of our friends, our enemies and those hordes of others in the war zone who are, essentially speaking, little more than innocent bystanders."

Mr. Wilson suggests a parallel. "North Vietnam and the Viet Cong have fought patriotically and courageously, motivated by a dedication to principles of self determination and national unity and independence that have certain parallels in our own war of the American Revolution.' He proposes retirement of American forces to "enclaves," following the plan, several years ago of General Gavin.

Proposals and plans proliferated all through the community, from elected public officials like the Democrat James Andrews and the Republican William Wilson, and from Congressman Frank Thompson, who signed up for a visit to the day long observances planned by Educational Testing Service.

At Princeton University, a canvass of all 30 academic departments showed that nine out of ten faculty supported the Moratorium. Among those signing the resolution were all of the University's top officers, including President Robert F. Goheen, Provost William G. Bowen and the deans of the Faculty, Graduate School, College, Students and the Woodrow Wilson School.

Departments whose members strongly support the Moratorium (and a resolution of opposition to the U.S. in Vietnam) are physics, history, mathematics, economics, politics, English, Romance languages and the Woodrow Wilson School.

Departments where the faculty oppose the Moratorium in significant numbers, are mechanical sciences, aerospace, classics, astrophysics, slavic languages, art and archaeology.

Dr. Goheen himself joined with about 80 other college presidents who, speaking as individuals, urged the President to step up the time-table for withdrawal from Vietnam.

Back across Nassau Street, Dr. Philip E. McPherson, superintendent of schools, cited official Board of Education policy which supports study of controversial issues as a way for youth to develop citizenship.

"In the case of the public schools in Princeton, it seems appropriate that rather than suspend normal school activities (on October 15) we should intensify within our schools at this time, for those who wish to do so, a consideration of the war issues."

Students could stay away from school on Wednesday only with parents' permission. Teachers were allowed to take one of the two "personal leave" days granted them each year.

"I expect that the school environment will be such on Wednesday that most students and staff will want to be there," the superintendent said.

At the high school, a student committee had planned a full day of programs. (A full Wednesday, that is: classes normally end at 1 for the Wednesday Program in the afternoon.)

The State Department Film, "Why Vietnam?" and an anti-war film were both shown; the Radical Arts Troupe from the University signed in for two appearances; Thomas Spiro, of the University's chemistry department, talked about biological-chemical warfare; Richard Falk, who was in North Vietnam last year, was another speaker.

At Princeton Theological Seminary, classes were suspended Wednesday by President James I. McCord for a series of morning Colloquia on the war. "It is clear that continuation of the war presents to all of us a serious moral problem," Dr. McCord said. "Though there is no one solution to the dilemma that commends itself to every conscience, we believe the growing number of persons who oppose the war should have opportunity to express their convictions in this public manner."

The Seminary invited the public to a showing of "The War Game," twice on Wednesday morning and at 9 p.m. Wednesday night in the Campus Center.

The University held a Memorial Service for the War Dead in the Chapel, and various workshops on the war all morning. A. K. Lowenstein, Congressman from New York who worked for McCarthy, was listed as the star attraction of the 1:30-3:30 rally in front of Nassau Hall.

Volunteer canvassing throughout the town to gain support for ending the war, was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon.

A prayer vigil at 8 on the steps of the State House in Trenton—and at 7 p.m. at the Martin Luther King Memorial in front of the First Baptist Church, were designed to bring the Moratorium to a close.

For the First Baptist Church prayer vigil, the Rev. Edward Smith, pastor, and the Rev. Charles Henderson, assistant chaplain at the University, agreed to join hands as co-leaders, urging those who attend to "light a candle for peace."

CANDIDATES TO APPEAR

At League Meeting. Several new features have been incorporated into the Candidates Night for Borough and Township candidates, planned by the League of Women Voters for 8 p.m. Wednesday, October 22 at the John Witherspoon School auditorium.

For the first time the candidates for Borough Council and Township Committee will not answer questions announced in advanced, but will participate in a round table discussion. Questions from the audience may be put to directly to any or all of the candidates.

Appearing at the meeting will be Borough mayoral candidates Robert Cawley (R) and Mrs. Alice Mead (D). Borough Council candidates Charles Cornforth (R), Robert Hendry (D), Martin Lombardo (D), and Christine St. John (R) as well as Township Committee candidates Richard J. Bergman (D), Dean Chace (R), Mrs. Golda Gottlieb (D) and John D. Wallace (R). Mrs. Peter Marhunic of Hopewell will act as Moderator, Mrs. Charles Gilvarg as timekeeper.

The League in an effort to involve young people in the mechanics of the democratic process has extended a special invitation to members of the Princeton High School U.S. Government classes. Chris Kuhn and Christine Schley are in charge of hospitality for their classmates.

The League is offering a prize to the student who writes the most thoughful evaluation of the Candidates Night. The entries to be judged by a P.H.S. Social Studies teacher, and a representative of the League's Voters Service Committee.

The committee for the Candidates Night includes Mrs. Peter Vielbig, chairman, Mrs. Gareth Williams, refreshments, and hostesses Mrs. Robert J. Hearne, Mrs. Barbara Hill, Mrs. J. Robert Hillier, Mrs. Tod White and Mrs. David Popenoe.

Candidates will be available for informal discussion during the refreshment period following the meeting. Members of the Princeton community are cordially invited to attend and to bring their questions. Radio Station WHWH will broadcast the proceedings at 8:15.

JOINT BOARD VOTED

By Borough. A joint Borough-Township planning board was voted into being Tuesday night when Borough Council passed its ordinance 5-0. The Township has already acted.

Councilman Alan Carrick, who voted "no" the first time, cast a "yes" vote along with the rest, explaining after the meeting that he did not want to go on record as being opposed to regional planning. Councilman Charles Coraforth was absent.

Earlier in the day, Mayor Henry S. Patterson told the press that the new board may not actually come into existence until January 1. He said he would wait until after election to name the Borough's seven members, probably choosing people already on the Borough's own Planning Board.

"I will consult with whoever is the winner in the mayoralty race," the mayor said, "but I don't promise to take the winner's advice."

New or Old? After an unexpectedly brief hearing, Council took under advisement the Sheehan liquor license question. Timothy Sheehan wants to transfer his Brown Jug license from its 190 Nassau address to his proposed office building at 363 Nassau, and sell it to a buyer who wants to establish a restaurant at 363.

Mr. Sheehan says a license renewal is involved; the Borough says it's a new application. When Mr. Sheehan asked Mayor Patterson Tuesday night for "a clear statement" on the new-versus-renewal question, Mayor Patterson told him Council regarded it as a new application.

"See you in court, mayor," Mr. Sheehan replied.

Municipal attorney Gordon Griffin explained why the Borough regards it as a new application. Mr. Sheehan did not apply for renewal of his license within 30 days of the June 30 expiration date — as the law requires, Mr. Griffin said. Also, he has been out of possession of his Brown Jug premises since November, 1968. Mr. Griffin said that Mr. Sheehan applied to the state's Alcohol Beverage Control commission for a waiver of population requirements without notifying the Borough. The state gave him the waiver.

A state formula sets the number of liquor licenses a town may have by the population of the town. Administrator Robert F. Mooney said on Tuesday night that the Borough already has five or six more than population figures allow.

Mr. Griffin claims that Mr. Sheehan's application for a waiver of the population requirements is tacit admission on Mr. Sheehan's part that he was indeed asking for a new license.

How Many Bars? The "new" designation gives Council a bigger area in which to act, Mr. Griffin said. It can consider neighbors' objections, zoning and such philosophical matters as "Do we have enough bars already?"

Neighbors who objected — mostly via letter — Tuesday night, reminded Council that Mr. Sheehan has been faced down by the neighborhood before. Several years ago, when Mr. Sheehan wanted to set up his Brown Jug on the same Nassau and Markham corner, he was denied permission by Council because of neighbors' protests.

"How can all this come up again when it was denied before?" asked Dr. Alfred Cook, whose office is next door.

Donald Harney, Borough Engineer, added that a bar-restaurant isn't allowed anyway in that zone under the current zoning law. Besides, such an establishment could not meet the parking requirements.

The Zoning Board's recommendation of a use variance for 19 Vandeventer, which would allow the historic house to be used for law offices, was postponed until November at the request of counsel for Leonard LaPlaca, who opposes the zoning recommendation.

"It Says in The Times." Lowell F. Curran, chairman of a citizens group opposed to Princeton Community Housing's middle-income housing proposals, appeared again before Council.

He read from a New York Times' story on the deterioration of low-income public housing, in large cities.

"You're not suggesting this applies here?" asked Mayor Patterson.

"Not precisely, but there is a relation," Mr. Curran said. He cited lack of financial responsibility and inadequate project management as parallel factors.

Mayor Patterson challenged Mr. Curran. "Princeton's public housing doesn't have the problems they have in New York," he stated. "The housing authority here started as amateurs many years ago, but they're hard-nosed professionals now, and I think that will happen with PCH."

Replying to a question from Martin Lombardo on municipal action on the drug problem, Mayor Patterson said many community groups are drawing up proposals. Council itself has taken no specific action, he said.

Councilman Alice Male added that the Teen Concerns Committee will announce its proposals next week.

Council declined to act on, or even introduce, a resolution supporting the vote for 18-year-olds.

SQUIBB GIVES GOALS

Seeks to Be Good Neighbor. E. R. Squibb & Sons moved ahead with plans to build on its 200 acre plus site in Lawrence Township on two fronts last week. While bulldozers rolled over the tract, engaged in initial grading and road work, company officials gave several assurances that the big pharmaceutical firm is eager to be a good neighbor.

Acutely aware that some animosity toward Squibb may still exist, after the long and sometimes bitter battle in and out of court, Squibb officials met with members of the press at a Nassau Inn luncheon Friday to give the company's feelings on the matter.

"We feel the goal is to fit into the community and become a part of it," commented Ernest A. Johnson, general manager and vice president of the firm, "Like the citizens of North Lawrence, our objective is to maintain the integrity of the community, and for the very same reasons."

CHESS CHAMPION: Kerry Kruskal, 60 Littlebrook Road, holds the trophy he won in the New York Saturday Quadrangular Chess Tournament, playing in a section above his rating. Princeton High School's top board chess player, Kerry led the school to an eighth-place finish out of 34 teams in the New Jersey High School Tournament, and fifth out of 10 competing against adults in an open New Jersey team tournament. This year, Kerry's brother Clyde will be at the second board, and the two hope to lead Princeton to even greater success.

Mr. Johnson pointed out that before Squibb came, Lawrence had a very loose zoning law, but now the ordinance had been tightened sufficiently to the benefit of both Squibb and the township's residents.

In discussing the Route 206 and Province Line Road site, Mr. Johnson commented that it topped a list of 67 other possible locations across the country, and that Squibb was willing to wait out the long court fight because of its desirability. He listed several advantages of the area, including the educational facilities (Princeton University), the type of government, types of homes, skilled labor market, and environmental factors.

An area near Millstone was a possible second choice, and another off Route 206 between Princeton and Belle Mead was also under consideration.

Employees from both the firm's New Brunswick research offices and New York administrative headquarters will be relocated at the new Lawrence complex, which will employ about 1,200 in all. However, Mr. Johnson said that he did not expect this to create a big population influx, because most of the New Brunswick employees live close enough to commute. He estimated about 150 families might be coming to live in this area.

While the company will naturally attempt to have as low a turnover in personnel as possible, especially at the higher levels, Martin H. Schmidt, administrative vice - president, pointed out, he commented he expected that job opportunities would be available from the executive level down to the secretarial and clerical.

Squibb still has a few minor requirements to satisfy before an actual building permit is issued, but construction is expected to begin early next year with completion of the complex set for December, 1971.

DIALOGUE:

School and Town. Student grievances, the grading system and drugs are the three major topics to be considered by the new CASA Citizens Committee (CCC) which held its first meeting Monday.

The CCC comprises representatives of Princeton High School and the Princeton community, and it grew out of the high school's student - faculty Committee for Action on School Affairs (CASA). Chairman of Monday's meeting was Larry Wright, PHS senior.

Many issues aren't simple enough to be solved within the school, said Mrs. Marianne Hartmann, English teacher at PHS and coordinator of the school's representatives.

"The potential of a group like the CCC lies in the function of bringing together representatives from the school and the community who will be approaching the issues from a variety of viewpoints."

Margaret Bond, PHS senior; George Zezenski of the mathematics department, and Don Ellis, a community member, agreed to present a detailed plan for student grievance procedures at the next meeting on October 27.

Mr. Ellis likened the value of the Grievance Procedure to that found in industry-labor relations. "However," Mr. Ellis asserted, "all of these issues certainly involve the community as well as the students in the schools."

Student members present Monday were Lois Annich, Mitch Besser, Margaret Bond, Janet Breckenridge, Peter Bruce, Carol Middlebrook, Matt Neuburg, Peter Nichols, Mitch Parnes, Scott Swaney, and Larry Wright.

Faculty and administration members were Douglas Coulter, Mrs. Sybil Parnes, Mrs. Hartmann and Mr. Zezenski. Community representatives were Mrs. B. C. Aldridge, Mr. Ellis, Mrs. Dawes Loye, Louis Lavine, and Mrs. Reynold Steinhoff.

In the current World Series, both pitching staffs are deep enough so that neither side would benefit from rain, and the Weather Man — an impartial soul — said he isn't planning any.

BODY SHOP ROBBED

Four Gunmen Arrested. The owner of the Orange and Black Auto Body Shop, Route 1 at South Harrison Street, and eight persons inside the shop were robbed Saturday afternoon by four men armed with pistols and sawed-off shotguns. They were arrested some 15 minutes later on the Princeton Highlstown Road by Pfc. Alan Benkert of the West Windsor Township police, assisted by East Windsor Township police.

Treated for a gunshot wound in the back and released from Princeton Hospital was the owner, Frank Boccanfuso, 46, of 32 Oakland Road. He and nine other men in the shop at the time were allegedly robbed of $2,000 cash and assorted jewelry.

Arrested were Willie Starr, 21; Elliot Davis, 27; and Henry Owens, 35, all of New York, and Richard Edwards of Charleston, S. C. Owens is a former Princeton resident.

All have been charged with armed robbery and possession of stolen property. In addition, Owens, Edwards and Starr have been charged with carrying a concealed weapon and violation of the state's firearms act. Starr was also charged with a fifth offense — atrocious assault and battery. He was charged with the shooting.

All are being held in Mercer County Jail. Bail for Starr was set at $25,000; for Edwards and Owens, $15,000; and for Davis, $11,000.

West Windsor police identified the eight who were robbed as William Moffo and John Donato, both of Ewing Street; Anthony Amalfitano, Dorann Avenue; Thomas Friel, South Mill Road, Princeton Junction; Frank Nini, Opossum Road, Skillman; Anthony Forconi, Harmony Avenue, Lawrence Township; Dennis Johnson, Euclid Avenue, Kingston; and Clarence DiDonato, Monroe Avenue, Lawrenceville.

"There may have been others but these are the ones we have names and addresses for," said West Windsor Chief Francis Maguire.

The four gunmen allegedly entered the shop at 2:15. Pfc. Benkert spotted the suspects a few minutes later after receiving a description of their car. They offered no resistance, police said.

STATE HELP SUGGESTED

For Consolidation. The state could underwrite any tax disadvantage caused by municipal consolidation under a proposal outlined this week by the two Republican candidates for the Assembly.

William Schluter and Karl Weidel point out that municipalities sometimes decide not to consolidate because one would incur higher taxes than the other.

"The state provides financial incentive for school regionalization. Why can't this concept apply, under certain specific conditions, to municipalities?" they ask.

They suggest that the legislative agency, the County and Municipal Government Study Commission, to which Mr. Schluter belongs, "be directed to undertake a review of the existing state law regulating municipal consolidations."

The present consolidation law was enacted in 1891. "As Assemblymen, we plan to introduce legislation directing the Commission to take a long, hard look at reform of the consolidation law," they state.

ARREST IS END

United Fund at 47% of Goal

Leslie L. Vivian Jr.

Forty-seven percent of the $491,338 being sought for the United Fund-Red Cross campaign has been raised. The sum currently at hand is $231,108.

Leslie L. Vivian Jr., director of the Office of Regional and Governmental Relations at Princeton University, is serving as 1969 campaign chairman. The University has established $50,000 as it own quota toward assuring success of the drive.

Serving as the committee working with Mr. Vivian are Ernest F. Johnson, chairman; John T. Bonner, Roald Buhler, Mary Ann Gordon, John L. Lowrance, Burton G. Malkiel, John P. Moran, Joseph R. Strayer, Perris Thomsen, Robert P. Von Verde and Miss Eleanor Weld.

In a letter to Princeton University personnel, President Robert F. Goheen has pointed to the advantages of consolidating the primary financial needs of the community into a single annual appeal. He added that the United Fund places greater value on the quality of its causes and its reliance on the individual donor's sense of concern than on merely serving as an efficient, economical method of financing the operations of its member agencies.

of a car traveling at a high rate of speed on Route 27, (Nassau Street) Ptl. Timothy Huizing stationed his car in the middle of intersection of Nassau and Snowden Lane.

At 3:42, Jerome T. Ralph, approaching at an estimated 90 miles an hour, saw the patrol car in the middle of the road and swerved to avoid a collision. His car struck the curb on the right and continued on for 105 feet to the opposite curb, where it hit a Public Service pole. The complete left side and all four tires and rims of his car were damaged.

Ralph was treated at Princeton Hospital for a laceration of the forehead and then brought to police headquarters. There he was charged with possession of a firearm in a car, for which Judge Theodore T. Tams set bail of $2,500, and with reckless driving. Bail for the latter was $500.

He was then turned over to the custody of the Franklin Township police.

KICKS IN WINDOW

Of Woolworth's On Nassau. A large plate glass window of the Woolworth store on Nassau Street was kicked in a few minutes before midnight Saturday by a 19-year-old inn employee.

James Ware, who gave the Princeton Inn Dormitory on Alexander Street as his address and who, police said, was an employee of the Inn, has been charged with malicious mischief and held in Mercer County Jail in $1,000 bail.

Sgt. John J. Bellow and Ptl. James Agins were called to the scene by an anonymous phone caller. At the scene they were aided by a witness who had followed the suspect down Tulane Street and helped the officers apprehend him. Chief Peter J. McCrohan declined to give his name.

Held in Borough Jail until Monday, Chief McCrohan reported that Ware was "very belligerent." He added he had used foul language against the officers and had tried to "bust up" his cell.

Chief McCrohan reported that the window was valued at just under $500. Ware was scheduled to appear in court this Wednesday afternoon.

FOUND IN CAMPUS DORM

Man, Borough Girl, 15. A 23-year-old New Brunswick resident and a 15-year-old Borough girl were found living together in Wilcox Hall last week by University police.

They notified Borough police and Ptl. Anthony Ranfone arrested Bryant J. Terrell of 61 Troop Avenue. He was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and held in Mercer County Jail in lieu of $1,500 bail. The girl was charged with juvenile delinquency and released to the custody of her parents, pending action by juvenile authorities.

The couple had allegedly been sleeping in Wilcox Hall the previous four days. Police said they appeared at headquarters in haggard condition.

TWO STUDENTS ARRESTED

In Wilcox Hall Theft. Two 20-year-old students at Westminster Choir College have been arrested by Borough police and charged with the theft of $760 in furniture from Wilcox Hall on the University Campus.

Charged with grand larceny are Thomas W. Logan of Yeadon, Pa. and Clavin A. McClinton of Covington, Va. They have been released on $500 bail each to await a hearing in Borough Court scheduled for Nov. 19.

A coed in their company at the time of the arrest, Alceen C. Ford, 18, of Hartford, Conn., was charged with failure to give a good account of herself. She is a student at a Providence, R. I. junior college.

Their loaded station wagon was spotted on Nassau Street near Olden at 3:18 Monday morning by Ptl. Robert Muciarelli and Ptl. Victor Pasanella. They stopped the car at Olden Lane. Inside they found a couch and a collection of chairs, lamps and bookcases allegedly taken from the campus dormitory.

Seminary Room Entered. Two Princeton Seminary students, Room 409, Alexander Hall, told police their unlocked room had been entered last week.

Jan Bartlett said that his wallet containing $37 was taken from atop a dresser, and his $70 wristwatch. His roommate David Whitney reported losing $38.

Mrs. Marjorie Baker, 142 Mercer Street, reported that her wallet was stolen from the top of her desk in Room 25 at Princeton High School last Tuesday between 8:15 and 9:15 a.m. It had contained $78 and a gold ID bracelet, she said.

TO REPORT ON DRUGS

At School Board Meeting. A proposal for specific policies and procedures on the problem of drugs in the Princeton public schools will be outlined next Tuesday at the October meeting of the Princeton Regional School Board.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in Community Park School, and has been scheduled for Tuesday because state education commissioner Carl Marburger is due to speak in Princeton on the board's regular meeting date, the last Tuesday in the month.

Sex education and sensitivity training, including proposals made by the Wednesday Evening Program group, will not be on the board's regular agenda, however, board members expect that both questions may be raised from the audience.

CAR FLIPS ON STOCKTON

Skids 175 Feet on Roof. Four Trenton residents escaped serious injury early Thursday morning when the car in which they were riding on Stockton Street skidded out of control and landed on its roof. The car was a total wreck.

David L. Horton, 21, the driver, told Township Ptl. John Hammond the accident happened 178 feet south of Edgerstoune Road — that as he was rounding a curve about 55 miles an hour, he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. He braked and skidded into a mailbox post on the property of Lloyd Beckman Jr., 381 Stockton, which caused his car to overturn.

Initially, the car skidded some 170 feet. When it flipped, it skidded another 175 feet on its roof down the roadway. All the passengers inside, including 8 month-old Lisa Horton, who was uninjured, remained inside the car the entire time.

Horton sustained a contusion of his right leg. His passengers, Velma Horton, 19, and Willie F. Brown received abrasions. All were treated at Princeton Hospital and released.

There were no charges. The accident occurred at 1:49 a.m.

In a second single car accident on Stockton — this one a quarter of a mile south of Quaker Road — a Fairfax, Va., driver was injured.

Raymond T. Lamanna, 44, told Ptl. Mario Musso of the Township that he was unfamiliar with the area and had glanced at a map while driving. When he looked up, he saw he was two feet from a pole. The impact snapped the pole and left the upper half standing upright in the roadway.

Mr. Lamanna was treated at the hospital for bruises of the forehead and both elbows. He was ticketed for careless driving.

The mishap took place Friday afternoon at 12:06.

Borough Crash. Two cars collided Sunday at 1:17 p.m. at the intersection of Alexander Street and College Road West.

Virginia E. Chambers, 61, of Tennent, one of the drivers, received a contusion of the lip. Her passenger, Robert Gravener, 11, of Florence, received minor injuries.

Ptl. Thomas Michaud charged the second driver, Helen T. Foster, 79, 118 Snowden Lane, with failure to yield while emerging from a private street. She was treated for a concussion at Princeton Hospital where 16 sutures were used to close a scalp laceration.

Both cars had to be towed away.

TOT, 4, HOSPITALIZED

After Fall From Bike. Jeremiah Ostriker discovered last week that three on a bike can be just as unlucky as three on a match.

Early last Wednesday afternoon, Mr. Ostriker of Maple Apartments was riding his bicycle on Faculty Road with his daughter Eve, 4, up front and 1 year old Konrad Dobrott of Maple Apartments on the rear. As they were coasting down a hill near Lot 16, his daughter caught her foot in the spokes of the wheel, causing the bike to slow suddenly and throwing all three to the roadway.

The boy and Mr. Ostriker were taken by the First Aid ambulance to Princeton Hospital where Konrod was admitted for a concussion. He was released on Saturday. He also received abrasions and contusions of the left side of his face.

Mr. Ostriker sustained abrasions of the left shoulder and head. His daughter was treated for contusions of the left foot after she was taken to the hospital in a patrol car operated by Ptl. David Potts and Ptl. Mario Musso who answered the call. They were treated and released.

NO SITE

School Parcel Erased. The specific has been removed, but the general remains.

The Township Planning Board Monday night voted to eliminate from the Master Plan map as "school sites" the Hall-Hutson properties on Snowden Lane. However, the Master Plan map still bears the gear-shaped symbol indicating that the general Snowden Lane area is a pretty good one for some kind of school some day.

The Princeton Regional School Board wrote the Planning Board that it has "no desire at this time" for the designation of a specific site in that area, but it did ask the board to keep on the map the general area designation.

Park Lane Company was granted approval for the basic layout and parking of the first two office buildings it plans for "Princeton Executive Park." The land, presently landlocked, will eventually be reached by road from the east side of Mt. Lucas, just north of the Ewing intersection. Park Lane has an option to buy the land from Robert Lew, of Baltimore.

The Planning Board stipulated that Park Lane construct its access road in from Mt. Lucas in the roadbed of the Township's so-called "A" road, which is presently just ink on a map. Meanwhile, the municipality will begin to negotiate with the adjoining landowner about acquiring land for the "A" right-of-way, hoping to accomplish this by April 1.

The board is skeptical of a deed Park Lane has, showing a 50-foot right-of-way for Transcontinental Pipeline, going through the Park Lane property. The board thinks Transco now has 100 feet, and Park Lane was asked to find out for certain.

Park Lane's property adjoins land owned by William Hahn of Morrisville, Pa., which Princeton Community Housing, Inc. has an option to buy for middle-income housing.

W. Martin Hill was given approval to subdivide Route 206 property into a pair of lots, one landlocked. The landlocked one, which already has a house, is accessible by lanes from State or Mt. Lucas Roads.

The lawyer for neighbors of the Charles Griffin property on Riverside, has asked the Planning Board to change Mr. Griffin's sub-division from "minor" to "major." Major subdivisions, by law, must be submitted to public hearing, and minor ones need not.

As approved by the Planning Board in July, the minor subdivision, in effect, will mean a new house set down in the back-yards of neighboring houses.

The board said its "minor" designation and approval would have to stand; however, the Township attorney will be asked to draft zoning or subdivision ordinance amendments to keep a similar situation from occurring again.

Doing a little road work, the board's Road Sub-Committee has removed from the map the portion of the "F" road between Mt. Lucas and Route 206, re-classifying the rest of the road to a "local" road.

The change was made at the request of Princeton Theological Seminary, which plans a development on Mt. Lucas Road and was disturbed by the cost and safety factors in constructing a road with a very steep grade.

PARKED CARS SET FREE

On Clover Lane, Prankster night arrived early this year on Clover Lane.

Acting on a call from Jerry Sanders of 48 Clover Lane, Township police found two cars damaged because someone had released their brakes, set their gears in neutral and let them run into each other. One had rolled about 100 feet.

The left front fender and headlight of a car owned by Mark R. Peattie of 43 Clover Lane was damaged, when the front end of a car owned by Harry L. Pinch of 56 Clover rolled into it. The grill and hood of the Pinch car were damaged.

In checking the area, Ptl. John Hammond reported that the handbrake of a small foreign car had also been released. The car had rolled free of the drive at 108 Clover Lane but had not been damaged.

Ptl. Hammond added that he found evidence of further malicious damage in the area. The incident was reported Monday at 1:42 a.m.

MINORS FOR MEYNER: Todd Zapolski (left) and Billy Broad holds a high-level conference on political strategy with a famous Democratic party symbol. (The donkey is real and live and despite its abbreviated size, fully-grown and maybe even old enough to vote). They all met at a Saturday afternoon rally of young supporters of Robert Meyner, Democratic candidate for governor. (Marie Bellis Photo)

"Now, don't suck your thumb and whatever, you do, don't cry!"

Worthy admonitions to any politician, out ringing doorbells in a pre-election campaign. These particular words are addressed to the five and six-year-olds who belong to Meyner'a Mighty Minors, an organization of- - - uh - - - pre-teens, dedicated to the election of Robert Meyner as governor.

Most of the Minors are older, and haven't sucked a thumb for years. They range up to 12 years and one of their gurus, Mrs. David Reeves, says she is using the group as a tool for teaching American history and the grown-up way of doing things. For example, young minors themselves applied to Borough Hall for permission to set up a table in Palmer Square Saturday mornings.

They pass out bumper stickers, played host on Saturday to Mrs. Meyner, when she came to the donkey rally, and raised at the rally about $35 for the Meyner campaign chest by selling balloons and soft drinks.

"It's just a variation of the old children's game," Mrs. Reeves smiles, "Pin a Vote on the Donkey!"

POLITICS

Golf or Roller Skates? In formal statements this week, Princeton's candidates continued to play the game "anything you can do, I can do better."

In the Borough, the Republican candidates—who will be at Nassau and Witherspoon this Saturday from 10 to noon to answer questions—confined their remarks to a campaign statement that the "preservation of Princeton as an especially good community is the number one issue in the campaign" and the Democrats didn't make any statement at all on anything.

In the Township, it was Rec reation Week. Dean Chace, one of the Republican candidates, is chairman of the Joint Recreation Board and the other candidate, John D. Wallace, has been the Township Committee's direct liaison with the board since he was elected to Committee in 1967.

The two Democratic candidates, Golda Gottlieb and Richard Bergman, want to play, too. The question is — what games?

The Republicans want an artificial lake with picnic facilities, a natural amphitheatre for outdoor concerts, an ice rink and a par-three golf course which would pay its own way in fees.

They also point to bocce courts, scheduled for construction before the end of the year, and the near-completion of a couple of paddle tennis courts.

They endorse the Joint Recreation Board's action in retaining professional consultants to revise the Community Park Master Plan. "We need an organized and professional approach to the planning of the Park's future expansion," they state.

The Democrats think that a playground in the John Witherspoon area should take priority over a golf course. They also want more local parks, a roller rink and a community social center with a sidewalk cafe for summer. Golfers, say the Democrats, could have a driving-range, which would cost less than a par 3 course.

"Princeton's needs are those of a growing community with a diversity of people and interests," they state, charging that it is "too narrow and short-sighted" to confine community recreation to Community Park.

"The purpose of community recreation is to provide services for the entire community, including those who cannot pay fees. Facilities need not pay for themselves entirely through admission fees."

They propose alternative financing operations: recreation facilities developed as concessions, or supported by business firms through company grants.

They repeat their charge that taxpayers will pay $5,000 10,000 more per year because Community Park bonds could have been sold earlier, but now must be sold by May 1, 1970 at high rates.

Republicans, turning to financial matters, state that the Community Pool operating costs this summer were balanced by revenues at no net expense to taxpayers, although children's and senior citizens' fees were lowered and 247 scholarships were given.

FIVE PAY FINES

For Careless Driving. Five Princeton area drivers were fined for careless driving in Borough traffic court Monday by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr. In addition, three of the fiv- also had their licenses re voked.

They are Thomas H. Blaney III, 30, Sunset Road, Belle Mead, $35, who lost his license

MEETING PLANNED

For High School Parents. Parents of seniors at Princeton High School will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the high school cafeteria to discuss post-high school plans for their children.

Subjects to be covered include college entrance examinations, admissions deadlines and application procedures for colleges, in-school opportunities for students, scholarship information, and the student's role and the guidance counselor's role in post-high school plans.

Following a question and answer period, parents will meet in small groups with their senior's guidance counselor to discuss issues pertinent to the local situation.

The guidance counselor for students whose last names begin with the letters A through C is Marvin Trotman; D through G, Donald Riogkamp; H through L, Mrs. Mollie Updike; M through P, Dewey Boesholdt; Q through S, Richard Saldon, and T through Z, Mrs. Thelma Bornheimer.

PARENTS TO VISIT

At Back-to-School Night. West Windsor's Maurice Hawk and Dutch Neck Schools will hold back-to-school nights. To enable parents to participate in the classroom activities of all their children, the schools have scheduled different nights for the open house.

Maurice Hawk School will hold open house Tuesday with classes to be visited on the following schedule: kindergarten, 7:30 to 8:30 p.m.; and grades 1 through 4, 8 to 9 p.m. Dutch Neck School will hold its open house October 23 with classrooms to be visited on the following schedule: grades 5 and 6, 8 to 9 p.m.; and grades 7 and 8, 6:30 to 10 p.m.

Parents may visit classrooms according to this schedule. Two sessions, each lasting 30 minutes, will be held in grades 5 and 6. Parents with children in grades 7 and 8 are asked to report to their child's homeroom at 8:30 p.m. and from there follow an abbreviated schedule of their child's daily classes.

Teachers will explain the education program in their class rooms. A question-and-answer session will follow. Parents are requested to ask questions of a general nature. Questions concerning the progress of individual children can be discussed at the parent-teacher conferences scheduled in November.

Too Much Vacation?

Children attending Hopewell Valley Regional Schools may lose their mid-winter vacation, if a petition signed by several hundred parents is acted upon by the district's Board of Education.

The petition to abolish the one-week vacation in February was presented to the school board at its Monday night meeting by John Kirby of Titusville. It contained more than 400 signatures.

Mr. Kirby said he had talked with many other parents who felt the vacation was unnecessary. Board President Philip Alampi said that the petition came too late for the current school year, but would be considered next year.

COFFEE HOUR SET

For Littlebrook Parents. The first of the series of neighborhood coffee hours will be held Wednesday, October 22, at 8 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Playton Rhodes, 327 Witherspoon Street. The coffee is particularly for parents of Littlebrook students who live in the area, but any interested parents are welcome to attend. Lloyd Taylor, principal of Littlebrook School, will be there for informal discussion.

School pictures will be taken on Monday. Arrangements have been made for the photographing of toddler siblings on the same day at the school. The time for non-school age siblings is 2:30, and it will be done in the auditorium. Littlebrook requests that the children be Littlebrook brothers and sisters only and request that no babies be included.

CRANBURY TOUR PLANNED

Candlelight Concert To Follow. The Cranbury House Tour is planned for Sunday from 1 to 5 a.m. The $3 admission fee includes a tour of six private homes of historical interest in Cranbury, refreshments at historic Cranbury Inn and a candlelight concert in the Presbyterian Church at 5, p.m., presented by the Princeton Madrigal Choir with instrumentalists.

Tickets can be purchased Sunday in front of the First National Bank of Cranbury or at the Old Manse, 10 Symmes Court. Advance tickets can be obtained at the bank or by phoning Mrs. William C. Hoffman, North Main Street, Cranbury, 395-0657.

Parking will be available on Symmes Court and in the church and bank parking lots. Women have been requested not to wear stylus heels inside the houses on the tour.

Leave Your Leaves

Leaf collection will begin in the Borough on Monday and will continue throughout the fall until so many leaves have fallen that there's no point in it any more.

Householders are asked NOT to put leaves in the street. Children love to play in leaf piles and tragic accidents can occur when a motorist doesn't see a child hidden in his castle of leaves

Leaves should be left between sidewalk and curb. If you're afraid this will kill the grass—don't worry. Borough officials say soothingly that leaves are picked up so frequently the grass can't possibly have time to die.

Collections will be made every Monday in the far eastern section of the Borough, up to Linden Lane; in the heartland on Tuesdays; in the western section and the Witherspoon area on Wednesdays; south of Nassau around Prospect on Thursdays, and in the far west and southwest on Fridays.

CUT GLASS IS TOPIC

For Historical Society. A Glimpse of American Industrial Development as seen through its Cut Glass is the title of a lecture to be presented by Mr. and Mrs. F. Robert Michael, Wednesday October 22 at 8:15 p.m. in the Lounge of the Engineering Quadrangle. The lecture is open to the public and is the first of the series offered by the Princeton Historical Society.

Mr. Michael, who holds several degrees in engineering, is also a musician and composer. His interest in the history of glass making and the collecting of fine glass began in World War II from his observations of fine glass blowers who were working for him at the time.

The society's current exhibit, Medicine in Princeton, celebrating the fiftieth anniversary of Princeton Hospital, is open to the public during the regular hours at Bainbridge

Obituaries

Mrs. Emily Kearny Rogers Cowenhoven, died October 10 at her home, 101 Lafayette Road, after a brief illness. She was the widow of Charles T. Cowenhoven Jr., a New York admiralty lawyer.

Protect-Your-Home Show Nov. 4

The Borough and Township police are beating the drums for Princeton residents to visit a "Protect-Your-Home Show" they are sponsoring that will be held in the meeting room of Township Hall on November 4— Election Day.

On view will be the equipment of upwards of a dozen manufacturers of theft and fire alarm systems and home-locking and protective devices. "The show will give everyone a chance to inspect the various kinds of equipment, compare costs of installation and operation and learn in detail just how they can best protect their homes and property," said Borough Chief Peter J. McCrohan and Township Chief James B. Campbell in a joint statement. Manufacturers' representatives will be on hand from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Because Princeton's affluence makes it an attractive target for burglars, police point out that if more and more homes and businesses install alarm systems, this will become common knowledge among thieves, making it a community they would be likely to avoid.

As Your Mayor Bob Cawley Would:
- Encourage and broaden direct participation in solution of community problems by top talented citizens.
- Take specific steps to maximize cooperation among community-based institutions — for example, seek regular meetings between municipal and university officials on key issues affecting both town and gown.
- Give top priority to more housing for middle-income families — he will aggressively seek sound plans and attractive designs which will help meet the needs of all concerned — at little or no cost to the taxpayers.

PHS Commended.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Last week it was my pleasure to attend Back To School Nite at Princeton High School. I came away from this experience with renewed confidence in the dedication of the teachers of Princeton High. I must confess I, as a parent, have become irked by the rumors I have been hearing about "how terrible everything is at the High School," mainly coming from those whose children do not attend the public schools.

All three of my children have attended Princeton High — the eldest in 1962, the next in 1968 69 and the youngest is now a Junior at the School

I wish to take this opportunity to commend the high caliber of education which is taking place there, particularly in the English and Language Departments. The experience of all three of my children has been a positive one.

My late husband and I have always been firm believers in the public schools as a means of education for life. In what better way can a child be taught to relate to others and have a true learning experience? I do not believe the answer to the problems of our time lies in trying to enclose our youth in "little boxes," but in giving them such a firm foundation in the home and in the school experience that they will be prepared for life.

An example of the fine education available at Princeton High was noted in TOWN TOPICS a few weeks ago when the National Merit Scholars were listed; nine out of ten being from Princeton High.

My very sincere thanks to those who serve so ably in this difficult field of education.

Let's Back Our Teachers.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Before a teacher is qualified to teach he must fulfill many requirements, educationally. Then he must pass muster in satisfying the administration of the school system before he is hired. When he teaches he must comply with state laws and regulations.

A teacher is a member of an honorable profession. For any who are derelict in their duties there are proper and legal methods available for examinations and removal. Teachers also have rights and their privileges as citizens must be protected. They certainly should never be harassed.

The Princeton Wednesday Evening Group which has already distinguished itself as an advocate of controversial Sensitivity Training has now gone even further. It says in a paper recently served by it on the Princeton Regional School Board: There must be a policy that directs all staff members to participate in programs to increase sensitivity particularly in the area of race.

A variety of programs must be furnished so that staff members many choose from them, but staff members must participate in some such program each year." This indicates that the Wednesday Group is dictating to the Board that every teacher in the Princeton system must be required to take "Sensitivity Training" whether he wants to do so or not.

Anyone psychologically manipulated by a trainer is no longer enjoying the rights of Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness. Let us keep our teachers as first class citizens.

Sincerely,
OLGA T. SMITH

Wednesday Group Attacked.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Princeton Wednesday Evening Group has not done its Homework very well. In the recent demands served up on our School Board innocently entitled "Revised Proposals" a very revealing statement appears:

The Group states in regard to the Board "If any existing policies or procedures are duplicated by our suggestions, it is because they are ineffective, not being implemented, or unknown to us." Do you not think that the School Board and the Public are entitled to know what policies and procedures the Group alleges to be ineffective and not implemented?

This irresponsible broadside casts doubt upon the reliability and value of the Group's recommendation. The final coup comes, however, with the admission that the Group is not familiar with the policies and procedures of the Board. Have their Wednesday Evening meetings made them "insensitive" to these things?

Red Cross Actions Opposed.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Since it is the custom in Princeton to join the Red Cross with the United Fund Campaign, I think it only right to point out that rather disturbing allegations have recently been made regarding the behavior of the International Red Cross. According to an article in this month's Avant Garde magazine, the Red Cross last year warned nearly 600 Nazi criminal throughout the world that their identities had been uncovered and that they were in danger of arrest and deportation to face trials in France. As a result, they have managed to disappear from view.

According to the story, the head of the German Red Cross justified the action by asserting that the organization helps "all human beings in trouble . . . even an escaped sex fiend." Until these allegations are proved conclusively false, I for one will find it impossible to support the Red Cross, and I imagine that others, at this time of the United Fund Campaign, may wish to consider how their gifts are distributed.

MAN OF THE WEEK: James A. Perkins, about to become a Princeton resident again and to begin his duties as chairman of the new Center for Educational Enquiry.

Clarification Offered.

To the Editor of Town Topics:

In the October 2nd issue of the TOWN TOPICS you reported on the Planning Board meeting concerning the proposed Condominium Housing to be erected on property located on North Harrison Street.

I should like to straighten out some misconceptions in your reporting, because in my opinion you made it appear that I objected to this project. This is not true.

When I first got up to speak I started out by saying that both my wife and I were in favor of the housing. I did ask the reasoning of the Traffic Safety Committee in suggesting that one of the entrance and exits be onto North Harrison Street. I did not say it was the 3rd worst street in the Borough for accidents. I did in fact say it was the 3rd most heavily traveled street in the Borough plus it had the Firehouse and Borough garage just up the street and the homes for the elderly located directly across the street.

In the event of a fire it seems to me that with one entrance and exit on North Harrison, it could hamper firemen and fire trucks from answering the alarm which in turn could prove costly to both residents of the Borough and Township in property and perhaps lives.

It was my understanding at the meeting that all concerned plus the Traffic Safety Committee seemed to think by opening Bainbridge Street that drivers would use Bainbridge and Scott Terrace thereby creating a "drag" strip for people trying to avoid the lights at Harrison-Nassau and Harrison-Hamilton.

I pointed out that Harriet Drive approximately 500 feet from Scott Terrace has been in existence for some years

NEW SEASON OPENS

Sonata Recital Presented.

Zara Nelsova, violoncellist, and Grant Johannesen, pianist, presented a sonata recital at McCarter Theatre Monday evening as the first Series I concert of the new season. The program included Beethoven's "Sonata No. 3 in A Major," Op. 69; the Sonata for violoncello and Piano (1948) by Hindemith; and the Sonata In G Minor, Op. 65, by Chopin.

Miss Nelsova's tone is not robust or powerful; at least not in the tradition of the great cellists that have graced McCarter's stage in past years. In fact, her tone left much to be desired, especially in the Beethoven, where the melodic writing for the cello is continually pressed by a vigorous piano part that often appears as the major character in the partnership. More often than nat, Miss Nelsova's sound seemed nasal and subdued and it was difficult to realize the balance between the cello and piano through much of the Beetboven sonata.

The Hindemith score, on the other hand, provided a far different aspect to Miss Nelsova's artistry. Here her tone seemed more properly suited to the pastorale qualities of the music. Her interpretation was sensitive, her intonation quite secure.

Mr. Johannesen had a few rough spots during some of the tricky runs that Hindemith often took pleasure in writing, but, in general, he gave a splendid accounting of the musical's scope and formal structure. Hindemith is no Max Hegar, as some would have you believe. Much of his later music possessed a kind of academic rhetoric, and there are places in the final Passacaglia movement, where one can take exception, but the 1938 Sonata is one of the more sophisticated examples of Hindemith's skillful manipulation of modal chromaticism and lyrical expressionism. The two artists played the music with excellence and understanding.

The Chopin Sonata is a well proportioned work, its four movements lasting no more than its material will allow. The two performers brought of the music, playing down the chordal and bravura tendencies so many interpreters seem to prefer. This was all to the good. The work flowed serenely from beginning to end, concluding the concert in a most refreshing style.

Both Miss Nelsova and Mr. Johannesen returned to the stage after the Chopin to perform (as an encore) a delightful bon bon from the Sonata for Cello and Piano by Poulenc.

FROM MARLBORO

With Music. Works prepared and performed at the summer festival in Marlboro, Vermont, will be played at "Music from Marlboro," first concert in the Music Chamber series sponsored by the Princeton University music department.

"Music from Marlboro" will be heard at 8:30 p.m. in 10 McCosh hall on the University campus. Tickets are now available at the Woolworth Center concert office between 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. weekdays, and will be on sale at the door the evening of the concert.

Six artists will perform. The program will consist of the Mendelssohn Piano Quartet Number Two in f minor, opus 2; the Beethoven string quintet in C Major, opus 29 and Schumann's piano quintet in E Flat Major, Opus 44.

Performers will be Murray Perahia, piano; Marc Gottlieb and Donald Weilerstein, violins; Martha Strongin Katz and Scott Nickrenz, violas and Ronald Leonard, cello.

READING PLANNED

At Westminster Choir College. The public is invited to a reading of Mozart's "Requiem" Monday at 7:15 p.m. in the Westminster Choir College chapel, with the college's new president, Dr. Ray E. Robinson conducting. The main choir for the reading will be the state chapter of the college's alumni association, on campus for a meeting.

Joseph Kovacs, instructor in stringed instruments at the college, will provide instrumentalists to accompany the "Requiem," and Mrs. Joan Lippincott, head of Westminster's organ department, will be at the console.

This musical event leads into the annual alumni fund meeting, which begins Tuesday. Speakers for the two day session include President Robinson, James C. McKeever, alumni director, Edgar C. Thomas, director of planning and development and Fred Buch, '59, alumni fund director.

Correction

The first meeting of the fall season of the Society of Musical Amateurs will be held Sunday at 5 in the Unitarian Church, Cherry Hill Road. It was inadvertently reported in last week's issue of TOWN TOPICS that the meeting was scheduled for Sunday, October 12.

Johannes Brahms' German Requiem will be directed by J. Merrill Knapp of the Department of Music at Princeton as the opening program. All who are interested are invited to attend and to partake in the singing.

and has not been used by drivers to avoid the traffic lights.

Both Scott Terrace and Bainbridge are public roads and Bainbridge is already curbed and lined up to enter this building site. It is my opinion that this should be the proper entrance and exit to this proposed project with no cost to the Borough. It would also do away with another dead end public street. With the increase in vehicular traffic in Princeton, the less dead end streets we have the better traffic will move.

I might also say that by improving that site it may be an incentive for the Borough to clean up the Borough garage property which at times is an eyesore in surroundings that are considered residential.

Again may I say that both my wife and I approve of this proposed project wholeheartedly.

"Irrelevant Campaigning."

To the Editor of Town Topics:

The Democratic candidates for Township Committee are using the emotionally charged issue of the war in Vietnam to make local political news. To those concerned with the quality of life in Princeton, this kind of campaigning is unnecessary and irrelevant. One might suggest they follow the proposal agreed upon by the Township Committee which was "to express themselves individually or in groups by sending statements on Vietnam to Washington." Many Americans have been writing to Washington protesting this war for years, and it is a pity that some Democrats are so late in doing so.

The truth is that the Township Committee under the creative, concerned, and dedicated leadership of Mayor John D. Wallace provides such a dearth of issues to the opposition that they must resort to national problems.

BUSINESS In Princeton

SPECIAL PARTY PLANNED

For Annie's 50th. Fifty years ago this Sunday, teenager Anna St. George got herself a job at the Princeton University Press.

She's still there, and her friends at the Press will honor her at a dinner this Sunday at the Holiday Inn.

"Annie is truly loved by all her friends and co workers," a staff member says, "for obvious reasons that she is warm, generous and full of consideration for others. . ."

She was born in Princeton on September 16, 1905, the year the University Press was founded. Her parents were Austrian-Hungarian.

Her mother was employed by the Lambert family in Princeton, and her father worked for the Pennsylvania Railroad. He was killed on the job at the Princeton Junction crossing when Anna was in her early teens, and it was about then that she went to work for the Press.

Loyal and Dedicated. "Anna brings a commitment of loyalty and dedication to her job which is total," the people at the Press say. "Her days of absence over the fifty-year span probably could be counted on two hands this despite, among other things, a record of a broken ankle and a break on wrist.

"The broken wrist goes back only about five years, so many of us still here in the accounting department well remember her working on, obviously in pain, without complaint. . ."

As a girl, she worked in the shipping department, when the Press was wrapping up such books as Paul More's six volume "The Greek Tradition," written, it is said, between conversations in Nassau Street's Baltimore Lunch.

And she packaged Einstein's "The Meaning of Relativity," Hooton's "Why Men Behave Like Apes," the Princeton Mathematical Series, and possibly the Press's only novel, Harvey Smith's "The Gang's All Here."

Served Five Directors. In the early 1930's, she moved to the accounting department, where she has since remained. Her years at the Press have spanned through the directorships of Paul Tomlinson, Joseph Brandt, Datus Smith, Norvell Samuels and Herbert S. Bailey Jr.

The books she has wrapped or accounted for range from "The Pylos Tablets," a book no one can read because it is a transcript of an unknown language found on clay tablets in the ruined Greek city of Pylos, to paperback editions.

"ANNIE IS TRULY LOVED . . ." Miss Anna St. George will be guest of honor at a University Press dinner on Sunday, marking her 50th anniversary with the firm.

HE CARES
COMMITTED RESPONSIVE PROGRESSIVE

With his experience as chairman of the Borough Council Finance Committee, Charles Cornforth is convinced that:

- In evaluating proposals for change, our community, which is primarily a residential one, must give primary consideration to the effect on those who make their homes here
- One very important factor to the resident who owns his own home and to the resident who rents his is the amount of the tax bill.
- Accordingly, we must avoid being led into costly undertakings, even though worthy, without giving substantial weight to the effect upon taxes.

She suddenly became blind when she was about 17 years old, and remained so for about a year and a half. During this time, she was on leave from the Press. The cause of the blindness was apparently never determined.

"Annie never married," her friends at the Press say. "All of her life giving resources were literally poured into her job at the Press and, over the years, in providing a home for different members of her family. . ."

ARCHITECTS WIN AWARDS

For Outstanding Designs.

Two Princeton architectural firms, J. Robert Hillier and Diehl/Miller Busselle, members of Uniplan, were cited for outstanding design achievements at the 69th annual convention of the New Jersey Society of Architects. Mr. Hillier won two of the 11 awards given at the convention. The winning designs were chosen from among 85 entries.

William G. Bohm

The citations are the highest professional recognition given by the society to its members for outstanding design and building concepts. Mr. Hillier's awards were given for the residences of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Epstein and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas R. Peck, both located in Princeton. The award presented to Diehl Miller-Busselle was for the Center Main Trenton State Hospital Administration Building in Trenton.

The winning designs of both completed and preliminary projects and several addition al projects chosen by a jury of impartial judges will form the basis of a travelling exhibition to be shown throughout the state during the coming year, under the sponsorship of the N.J. State Council on the Arts.

COMPUTER SYSTEM SET

By Princeton Savings and Loan. Princeton Savings and Loan Association, 19 Chambers Street, plans to install a computer system this month which will connect teller consoles to a central computer for instant processing of savings trans actions.

Developed by the National Cash Register Co. the system will use special telephone lines to link each teller's window with NCR's data processing center in New York City. Customers will be served instantly because all transactions can be cleared with the central computer. Each time a customer is served, the balance in his account will be brought up to date instantly and any unposted dividends will be automatically posted. The average time for each transaction will be less than three secoods.

The system will provide split-second handling of trans actions, electronics accuracy, additional security and protection for customers' savings accounts, and will result in more personal customer service. In addition, the new system will provide Princeton savings with the ability in obtain daily balances and tight auditing controls.

A unique computer memory device called "CRAM" (Card Random Access Memory) makes the system possible. CRAM units hold "decks" of plastic magnetic cards in interchangeable cartridges, each storing about 6 million characters of information. Each cartridge, sn small that it can be held in one hand, can "remember" more than "10,000 savings accounts. With the CRAM system, any individual account can he "found" by the computer, from a random file, in a fraction of a second.

STOCK DIVIDEND SET

By First Trenton. The board of directors of First Trenton National Bank have voted a stock dividend of 5% payable to shareholders of record November 14, 1969, according to an announcement by Sydney G. Stevens, board chairman. The action is subject to approval by the Comptroller of the Currency.

In a letter to shareholders Mr. Stevens advised that fractional shares would not be issued but that shareholders would be given the opportunity to purchase additional fractions to round out a full share or to sell any fractional share in which they would be entitled.

Mr. Stevens also stated that it is the present intention of the directors to maintain the present annual cash dividend rate of $1.80 per share. The dividend was increased from $1.60 to $1.80 last July 15th.

STEVENSON HONORED By Memorial Window. A stained glass window in memory of the late Adlai E. Stevenson has been completed in Princeton University Chapel. Members of his class, 1922, were the primary donors.

The design is a symbolic tree of life. Engraved beneath will be a quotation from Psalm I, "He is like a tree planted by streams of water."

After his undergraduate years at Princeton, Adlai Stevenson served as governor of Illinois and as United States ambassador to the United Nations. He was twice the Democratic Party's nominee for president.

The artists Ellen Simon of New York and Toronto, who is also the designer of the Holy Family window in the chapel, The memorial is on the southeast side, facing McCosh Hall, and is the final stained glass window to be installed.

The Faculty Committee on Art in the Princeton Chapel approved the window design. Members include Dean Ernest Gordon, dean of the chapel; the Rev. Carl Reimers, former assistant dean; Richard Stillwell, emeritus professor of the history of architecture; Patrick J. Kelleher, professor of art and archaeology, and director of the Art Museum, and Rensselaer W. Lee, emeritus Marquand Professor of Art and Archaeology.

The window memorial is particularly appropriate, Dean Gordon said, as Mr. Stevenson invariably visited the Chapel whenever he visited the Princeton campus.

The church will continue its dual affiliation with the American Baptist Convention and with the United Church of Christ, an arrangement adopted in the spring of 1966.

Christ Congregation has also called as minister-in-training, Ronald C. Quay, a senior at Princeton Theological Seminary. He is the first to hold the post since the congregation was founded in 1955.

Vietnam Is Now Mr. Nixon's War. He Must End It.

No longer is it Johnson's war. Nixon promised us he had a plan to bring the war to an end, but all we've seen is delay, inaction, and more war. Nixon has asked for patience, but our patience has worn thin. The Vietnam war continues to erode the moral and material fabric of American society. As Christians, as citizens, we demand that Mr. Nixon end the Vietnam tragedy. All American troops must be withdrawn promptly. Mr. Nixon, this is now your war. Only you can end it.

We CARE about YOUR NEEDS as well as YOUR TAX BILL

Since 1965 your borough government's share of the borough tax rate has grown at only half the pace of county and school shares.

Yet, during this same period your borough government has provided you with the following new facilities and services:

1. NEW BOROUGH HALL
2. NEW COMMUNITY PARK SWIMMING AND RECREATION FACILITIES
3. NEW LIBRARY
4. FULL TIME JUVENILE OFFICER
5. NEW SPACE FOR YOUTH CENTER

Thus, we seek to protect your tax rate while meeting borough needs. We urge state tax reform that would help municipalities, including Princeton borough, to meet growth requirements without increasing real-estate taxes.

News Of The THEATRES

BLACK THEATRE "REAL"

New Group in Debut. How does one begin to review a program that includes drama, dance, music, poetry and, most of all, personalities? Such was the problem given this reviewer.

Saturday night's "thing" at Wilcox Hall a was fusion of all the varied expressions of The Black Arts Movement. Recognizing that the talents of The Harambee House Players could not be encompassed in a conventional theatrical structure, the young performers seemed to be saying "Here we are and this is what we do — all of it".

If we begin with the two one-act plays by Ben Caldwell, we see a group that intends to give the Princeton community something brand new. Mr. Caldwell's plays are quite a bit more than just harsh. He is a playwright who omits all the word smoke-screen and gets right to the crux of the situation, which is not "how I got where I am", but "what I intend to do to get somewhere else".

On reflection, one wonders why the white members of audience did not just get up and walk out. It was very obvious that Ben Caldwell was not talking to that segment of the Princeton populace.

As plays, neither work can be called good drama in the conventional sense of the term. There is little character development. The language is totally devoid of memorable qualities, save a few well-placed obscenities which lose themselves through repetition.

The point to be made here, however, is that one cannot use a conventional yardstick to measure these works. They do not speak to the same audience that Tennessee Williams bargains for, nor do they aim for the same kinds of reaction. These plays are clearly propaganda pieces designed to sell the idea of Black Solidarity.

McCARTER THEATRE and the GARDEN THEATRE announce a Unique Collaboration: The First.

GARDEN FALL FILM REPERTORY

Five Weeks: Ten Programs • October 20-November 23 • The Gorden Theatre, Princeton

Ten significant films from this country and abroad, none of which has previously been seen in the Princeton area. Prize-winners from Cannes, Venice, Berlin and the Lincoln Center Film Festivals.

FIRST WEEK: OCTOBER 20-26

MON.-WED., OCTOBER 20-22

YOUNG TOERLESS

(Germany, 1966)

A taut and trenchant adaptation of Robert Musil's 1906 novel about life in a military boarding school in Austria at the turn of the century. Directed by Wolker Schlondorff, it explores the question of individual guilt and the roots of totalitarianism in the atmosphere of a repressive educational system.

THURS.-SUN., OCTOBER 23-26

LOLA MONTES

(France-Germany, 1955)

One of the great movie classics of our time, now released in its original, uncut version. The last work of director Max Ophuls, it is an eye-expanding summation of the lush, romantic stylization of the 19th century. Probably the most sumptuous picture ever made, a never-ending feast for the eyes. With Martine Carol, Peter Ustinov, Oskar Werner.

SECOND WEEK: OCT. 27 - NOV. 2

MON.-WED., OCTOBER 27-29

LES BICHES

(France, 1968, color)

St. in St. Tropez, the story of a bizarre triangle: a rich but bored lesbian, a Paris hippie, and a young architect, who enjoy a kind of "deviate dolce vita." Director Claude Chabrol takes the themes of lesbianism and bi-sexuality and mixes them with suspense and psychology. A subtle tale of perversion, with Stephane Audran, Jacqueline Sassard, Jean-Louis Trintignani.

THURS.-SUN., OCT. 30-NOV. 2

BATTLE OF ALGIERS

(Italy, 1967)

An extraordinary cinematic achievement, and one of the major films of the decade. Director Gillo Pontecorvo offers a starkly realistic re-enactment of people and events during the anti-French rebellion of 1954-57. Dazzling photographic virtuosity, for not one single piece of newsreel footage was used. The film asks this pertinent question: How can man take moral action without resorting to violence?

THIRD WEEK: NOVEMBER 3-9

MON.-WED., NOVEMBER 3-5

THE BOFORS GUN

(Great Britain, 1968, color)

One of the neglected masterpieces of 1968, its drama centers on a group of mutinous, psychotic artillery guards who test their commanding officer until they destroy both him and themselves as well. Seldom has army talk come to the screen so frankly, or has the savagery of human relations been explored with such depth. With Nicol Williamson and David Warner.

THURS.-SUN,. NOVEMBER 6-9

LE DEPART

(France-Belgium, 1967)

A French-speaking comedy made in Belgium by a Polish director, Jerzy Skolimowski. A tribute to the irrepressible spirit of youth, with Jean-Pierre Leaud as a hairdresser whose principal interest is sports cars until he meets The Girl. With echoes of Lester, Godard and Mack Sennett, it is both hauntingly real and extremely funny.

FOURTH WEEK: NOVEMBER 10-16

MON.-WED., NOVEMBER 10-12

LOVE AFFAIR

(Yugoslavia, 1967)

Also known as "The Case of the Missing Switchboard Operator," this is a bizarre mixture of clever comedy and casual tragedy. Director Dusan Makaveyev's subject is the erotic-neurotic love affair between a switchboard operator and a rat exterminator. His message: the ultimate values of life are its trivialities, its senseless moments.

THURS.-SUN., NOVEMBER 13-16

BELLE DE JOUR

(France, 1968)

A masterpiece of cinematic erotica by the great Spanish director Luis Bunuel, based on the Joseph Kessell novel of the same name. Seldom has sado-masochism been delineated with more application and fuo. The cast includes Catherine Deneuve as Severine, and Michel Piccoli, Jean Sorel, and Pierre Clementi as the men in her life.

FIFTH WEEK: NOVEMBER 17-23

MON.-WED., NOVEMBER 17-19

HUNGER

(Denmark-Sweden, 1966)

A tour de force for Swedish actor Per Oscarrson, who portrays a young Norwegian writer whose mind is on the verge of total collapse. Proud and penniless, he is starving while dreaming of the masterpieces he will someday produce. But his hunger is not only of the stomach, but of the mind and heart as well.

THURS.-SUN.,NOVEMBER 20-23

GREETINGS

(USA, 1968)

An "overground underground" film of, by and for the young — those of draft age, that is. "Greetings" freewheels across such subjects as fooling draft boards, computer dating, pornographic movies, and the Kennedy assassination. Unabashed in its presentation of young people simply being young; an eye-opener for those over thirty, and a slice-of-life style for those under.

PERFORMANCE SCHEDULE: Showtimes for all ten programs are daily (including Sunday) at 7 and 9 p.m., with matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday at 2:30 p.m. ("Battle of Algiers" at 7 and 9:15). All foreign films shown in their original language with English subtitles. Regular admission prices — tickets at the door. Pick up a brochure with complete program information and notes at McCarter Theatre, the Garden and Playhouse Theatre lobbies, or drop a postcard to: McCarter Theatre, Box 526, Princeton. News Of The Theatres

Judging from the reaction of the audience, they did more than their job. The old Princeton reserve was nowhere in evidence as the young people (and a few old ones, too) shouted and stamped their approval. There is more to be said about the plays, but you're only given so much space for a review.

It is difficult to discuss the music of "A Mixed Bag" because there was so much of it and all of it deserves mention. The best musical moments, however, were those which featured the ABC Vocal Ensemble, a group made up of students from Westminister, Princeton, and Douglass.

After hearing concerts of music based on black folk material, it was a joy to hear the "real" stuff sung by people who were born to it. It was good to be a part of an audience that really knew what was good about it. They knew because they felt it. From the red robes and tambourines to the rocking and shaking heads, this was real.

Even when the material was not real, as in the case of the aria from "Porgy and Bess" so beautifully sung by Toni Jackson, the reactions were.

Equally as beautiful, but from an entirely different bag, was a plaintive solo by Pat McLain. Miss McLain coos and slides and does all of the things that make black music sexy, even when the subject is a "Brown Baby".

It is obvious by now that there were many high points to this production, but the highest of the high points was undoubtedly a monologue written and performed by Perry Owens. The young man has stage presence. He not only lights a fire, but keeps it burning all the time he's on.

There must be some kind of summary for all of these words of praise and it probably has to do with the audience. The Harambee House Players must stay active. They have done what McCarter, Intime, and The Community Players combined could probably not do; they have made theatregoers of people who do not usually pass their spare time in a playhouse.

One can almost count on one hand the black people in the audience at most of our playing places. This is probably because the concerns presented in works programmed and the life style shown are both somewhat removed from the daily experience of the black man. Theatre is more vicarious for him than it is for his white counterpart. As was demonstrated on Saturday, even the methods of showing approval vary according to the life style of the audience.

The Harambee House Players can do some pretty important things in this community. Not only can they become a place for the black performer to do whatever he does without trading a piece of his identity, they can also be the living expression of the black man's continuing contribution to and involvement in this whole thing we call "the society".

NEW GARDEN POLICY

Special Films. "Significant cinema," which is 1969 talk for the kind of film that used to be called "art film," will occupy the screen of the Garden Theatre for the next five weeks.

Starting next Monday with the German film "Torless," the Garden will show two films a week for five weeks, choosing the ten from Yugoslavia, Great Britain, Belgium, France, the United States, Sweden, Germany. None of the films has ever been shown in the Princeton area before.

The scheduling will follow a Monday - through - Wednesday, Thursday - through - Sunday pattern, with the usual two shows daily and Sunday at 7 and 9 p.m. and matinees Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday at 2:30. Admission prices will be unchanged.

A complete list of films and dates is contained in the advertisement on page 29.

Among the offerings will be "Belle de Jour," "Battle of Algiers," "The Bofors Gun," and "Lola Montes."

The venture, which will be repeated for a five-week spring season if this autumn one is successful, is a cooperative effort between McCarter Theatre and the management of the Garden.

The original idea came from Alan Downer of the University's English department, who teaches a course in film and has been closely associated with McCarter for many years. William Lockwood Jr., special bookings director for McCarter, is program director for the new series.

"Princeton has a tremendous audience for significant cinema," Mr. Lockwood said. "Most other college towns have repertory cinemas like this, but Princeton has never had one."

Mr. Lockwood emphasized that the new repertory series in no sense implies a criticism of the two existing commercial theatres, the Playhouse and, under the usual booking procedures, the Garden.

As a matter of fact, Fred Blaicher, the president of Palmer Square, Inc., Richard Knight who manages both Playhouse and Garden, and Rugoff Theatres, the Garden's New York bookers, have all cooperated splendidly and are very happy.

They also hope, of course, that the enterprise makes money. Mr. Lockwood is sure it will.

"At McCarter, we show about 40 films a year that haven't played here, or haven't played here for some time, and we have full audiences."

McCarter's own bookings are limited because the theatre shows 16mm, and the usual film isn't translated into the smaller 16mm size until the film itself is no longer new. Besides, McCarter's evenings are pretty well booked up with other things.

"We think students, and townspeople who like significant films, will welcome the Garden's program," Mr. Lockwood said.

"RED EYE OF LOVE"

Intime's First. A comedy called "Red Eye of Love" by Arnold Weinstein, will open the season for the University's Theatre Intime.

Opening night will be next Thursday, October 23, and the play will run Friday and Saturday, and the following weekend—October 30, 31 and November 1—at Murray Theatre on campus. Curtain time is 8:30 each night.

Described as "one of the happiest pieces of the 'open theatre' movement," the play handles the contemporary urban life style with wit and point.

Its three main characters are an idealistic youth (Chuck Mitchell, a Princeton freshman playing his first—naturally—Intime role); a meat-market tycoon (Oscar Fruchtman, a Princeton junior) and a girl (Marie Miller) who divides her time between them.

Mr. Mitchell played leading roles in "Inherit the Wind", "View from the Bridge" and "Under Milkwood" before he came to Princeton. Mr. Fruchtman was a writer-performer for Triangle. Mrs. Miller has been in four Intime plays, and was active in the theatre in Washington, D.C. before coming to town. She has designed and executed her own costumes for this production.

Bernie Miller is directing. A resident of Princeton, he has directed for the New Jersey State Cultural Center in Trenton and the Theatre Lobby in Washington. He has also acted for Washington's Arena Stage, the Hedgerow Theatre in Philadelphia and the Poets' Theatre in Cambridge.

"BIRTHDAY PARTY"

Pinter & McCarter. Harold Pinter's "The Birthday Party," which will open McCarter's season this Friday at 8:30, isn't exactly the most festive play to mark a tenth anniversary.

It is, of course, McCarter's tenth as the home of a company of resident professional actors occupied for a season of repertory.

"The Birthday Party" invites the McCarter audience into the living room of a dreary English resort. A middle-aged couple, played by Ruby Holbrook and Gordon Phillips, have an odd boarder named Stanley—James LaFeria—who is visited by a menacing pair of friends—Goldberg und McCann — Arthur Roberts and Robert Blackburn. The other guest at the party is Lulu, played by Beth Dixon.

Arthur Lithgow, the director, points out that although Pinter is himself a young man, his plays seem to be about the older "wrecks in life's stream. There is a notable absence of youthful aspiration, hope, a future, a sense of progress. The past is obscurity, the future is anxiety; only the moment itself—the present—has force and impact."

HERE'S TIM

Buckley. Tim Buckley, the press release says, is a native Californian who grew up next to Disneyland. It turned him into a composer-folk singer-poet, as anyone can see who goes to Alexander Hall at 8 p.m. Saturday, October 25.

Buckley is the second in McCarter Theatre's series of Fall Folk & Rock Specials, and tickets are now on sale at the McCarter box-office.

(There are still tickets left for the Chicago Transit Authority this Saturday at 8 in Alexander Hall.)

Buckley taught himself to play guitar and banjo and be-

"UP THE FRONT"

And Jeweled Sandals. When next you go into the Nassau Shoe Tree on Palmer Square, you'll be quite struck by the beauty of this season's designs. The lines are bolder, exotic fabrics such as peau de soie and velvet are often used, and the bright, jewel-tone stones on the evening sandals are an absolute coorversation piece.

There's a lot of the "up-the-front" design which is really a dramatic cut running high up your instep.

You'll see this even in the evening shoes, such as Mademoiselle's navy blue satin evening slipper, with the new "locket" trim — a braclet of cut crystal and rhinestones — across the toe. And also in the Andrew Geller model in brown moire, which has a 1" jeweled buckle at the side of the flange across the high instep.

Also in evening shoes: rich black velvet, with black rosettes of silk chiffon for trim. And corded silk in a beautifully simple design — high front, of course, and a jeweled bracelet trim.

Evening sandals, for the barefoot look, have elasticized sling backs that are very comfortable. Interesting and amusing models include the Jacques Levine design in black satin touched with a matching velvet bow. This comes in platinum, too, or in "dirty silver" — the shoe industry's name for a bronze tone — and in silver and white satin brocade. A wide choice in a very easy-fitting slipper for dancing.

There's an illusion of delicacy to the black embroidered lace pump, with a straight, sturdy heel of black satin. And to the black silk crepe with a squared "shield" up the front trimmed by a twist of gold metal. You'll notice the great emphasis on black this season.

To wear with tweeds, Nassau Shoe Tree is showing two interesting designs from Mademoiselle: a spectator in camel color calf with black grained calf trim. This shoe has a rather heavy sole, suitable for walking. The same black and camel combination comes in the new up-the-front design with a black grained calf medalion at the center, over the toe. (About $27.)

Also for daytime, the Gamins by Andrew Geller with the beautifully stacked two one-half inch heels. These shoes are a "neige" lizard (a new tone that is somewhere between beige and bronze), and also in black.

Sometimes a heavy shoe is very dressy — such as the Palizzio black patent with accents of brown suede at the toe and up the front. This is a very versatile shoe that can be worn with your better dresses and out to dinner.

Amoog the dressy shoes, you'll find rich, soft browns in the tortoise patents by Palizzio. These have the new egg-shaped toe that is so flattering. The mid-heel is very comfortable. There's a stark gold buckle for trim.

We liked the De Lise Deb that combined black kid with a scroll trim in "neige." The trim has a curious little outward flare at the front that is quite different. This comes in navy with red too.

The Nassau Shoe Tree also has black and brown alligators in young, supple skins, with a self-buckle touched with an edge of gold metal. These are Aronesti Originals ($40). In lizard, you'll find some extremely attractive self-covered heels. ($30)

Among the De Lise Debs is an unusual olive green calf with the lizard grain. A complementary green suede comes from the inner side and crosses the toe, ending in a series of small scallops. There's neat hand-stitching in white, an elegant touch.

Nassau Shoe Tree also has the new platform shoes — sling back and high up front over your instep. These are sheer fun. Also, the heavy, chunky shoes for pants suits and tailored suits. There are many good designs in blacks, browns greens.

And among the boots is the fascinating convertible with a zip-on pair of spats that reach to your knee. Underneath is a well-cut jodhpur boot. You'd be ready for anything.

JEWELED EVENING SANDALS this season range from the Bernardo velvet "scuff" with a dramatic crystal flower over the toe, to the delicately-designed Jacques Levine's with their exotic coating of colored stones and pearls. The strapped sandala "fit like a glove," Mrs. Martin E. Rohm of the Nassau Shoe Tree says. (See It's New To Us)

pers, Sony, Pioneer, Garrard, Wharfedale, Sansui, and the hot newcomer to the market, JVC America

"People come in three or four times, ask advice and look and listen before they buy — and they are perfectly welcome," he adds. "You can start out with the basic receiver and speakers — later on add turntable for records — tape units, external speakers for sound in different rooms — stereo earphones.

"We have put together complete systems for as little as $139 — AM, stereo FM and phono.

The Stereo Center gives custom audio design — based on top quality sound, the decor and arrangement of your room and your budget.

"You can come to me and say you want to spent $400, and for that money I'll give you the best in sound equipment and tailor it to fit your home."

Walter Hickman is a graduate of the RCA Institute in New York. He majored in psyies at Temple University. For the past seven years he has been with RCA, five of them at the Sarnoff Laboratories and, more recently, at the Camden plant, where he had management responsibilities.

In addition to the stereo, the shop also carries the legendary Andrea color TV. "It's the best," Mr. Hickman claims. "You're paying for quality."

There are the custom-built sets that go flush with your wall, handsome consoles in walnut and dark cherry. And there's Andrea's "Chroma" series, a 295-sq. in ultra-contemporary model available either as a lowboy with casters or as a table model.

The piece de resistance is the Andrea "Theatre in the Round," a round cabinet of walnut and teak with sliding tambour doors that cover the TV unit and the record changer. There are six matched speakers in the base, and the whole thing swivels 360 degrees. Stereo Center will order for you. It's a beautiful piece.

The JVC units that are going like hotcakes these days include a stereo tape deck to plug into your existing system. A slim, box of finely-grained wood that handles music from casettes.

"The JVC receiver — we are selling out of them, people have been so enthused," Mr. Hickman says. "JVC America has just started national advertising and people are just getting to know about its sound effect amplifier — a tone control system that has about outmoded all other receivers."

You'll also see the spherical speakers by JVC hanging by a chain from the ceiling. These round, black speakers give 360 degree sound radiation — a very pleasant effect. They're also quite a conversation piece.

Among the components, you will find the Japanese "Sansui" brand, which Mr. Hickman considers a great buy in quality and price. There are the Garrard, Dual and Miracord turntables.

The compacts, which have a turntable and amplifier in the same unit, include Scott, Ampex and JVC among others. "These are all good where space is at a premium.

The Stereo Center also has 8-track cartridge tape players for the home; a large selection of speakers, including the Scott "quadrant" with 360 degree radius of sound. The speakers can be used as end tables, hung on the walls, built into a wall, or put on bookshelves.

"You can take anything here and if you have trouble with it, you can bring it back and receive a brand new unit," Mr. Hickman promises. "We do servicing of audio equipment, and will be glad to check yours over."

The Stereo Center opened just two weeks ago. "While we're new, ask about opening discounts," he adds.

The university also has invited Mr. Olessi to be a resident guest speaker and panelist.

Major Emery S. Wetzel Jr., son of retired U.S. Air Force Lieutenant General and Mrs. Emery S. Wetzel, 11 Green Avenue, Lawrenceville, has received 18 combat decorations for heroic and superior airmanship while flying 200 combat missions in Southeast Asia.

The combat fighter pilot was presented three awards of the Distinguished Flying Cross and his second through 10th awards of the Air Medal at Lindsey Air Station, Germany, where he now serves as a flying safety officer with the U.S. air arm assigned to NATO.

A view of the role and responsibilities of the modern university during this era of student unrest and dissatisfaction has been presented by Princeton University President Robert F. Goheen in his book, "The Human Nature of the University."

Published last week by the Princeton University Press, the book is a distillation of the public papers of Dr. Goheen during his twelve years as president of Princeton. The papers were originally addressed to a broad audience, both within and outside the university. It is not a "how to" manual on the handling of student protestors or raising funds, but a careful reasoning of why certain policies should be followed.

Universities are not, in Dr. Goheen's view, "production lines to be retooled for today's fashion, not governments to be voted in or out, but delicate yet lasting associations (of human beings) whose prime commitment is to the virtue of thought in mankind's long, tortured endeavor to build a fairer and more peaceable world."

Navy Lieutenant John L. MacMichael, son of Commander E. A. MacMichael, 87 Jefferson Road, is serving aboard the USS Manatthon off the coast of California.

Mrs. Elizabeth Moynahan, a local architect with her own architectural firm, recently attended the 69th annual convention of the New Jersey Society of Architects. Titled "Design Happening," the convention was conducted as part of the continuing educational program of the society to acquaint its members with future needs, problems, and methods.

William B. Walstad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O. Walstad, 286 Shady Brook Lane, has been awarded the Porter Bible Prize at Lafayette College. The prize is presented to outstanding first year religion students proficient in the study of the Bible. He is a sophomore liberal arts student and is on the dean's list.

Veteran of 100 flights over North Vietnam prior to the bombing halt, the 1954 U.S. Military Academy graduate primarily flew F-4 Phantom fighter-bombers as a member of the 8th Tactical Fighter Wing at Ubon Royal Thai AFB, Thailand.

Major Wetzel was cited time and again for his expert aerial skill and weapons delivery while flying the Mach 2 jet fighter. He was particularly recognized for his courageous achievements while flying night missions to impede the flow of enemy supplies south. He has an M.S. B.A. degree from George Washington University.

Fred Bauer, 36 Jefferson Road, edited the book "Ev: the Man and His Words," published this week. Working on the book about Everett McKinley Dirksen for two years, Mr. Bauer revised the book in a matter of days following the death of the Senator, in order to move up the publication date.

In the book, Mr. Bauer, who is an editor for "Guideposts Magazine" and consulting editor for the Fleming H. Revell Company and author of "How Many Hills to Hillsboro" had Senator Dirksen's cooperation, talked with his people in Washington, consulted his files, visited the Senator in his homes in Virginia and Florida, and went with him on campaign in 1968. He also interviewed colleagues on Capitol Hill and visited Dirksen's hometown, Pekin, Illinois.

Midshipman Robert B. Cook Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Cook, 2 Hamilton Avenue, has been named to the dean's list for the spring semester at the United States Naval Academy. He is a third classman and on the varsity swim team.

Roger S. Rittmaster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Rittmaster, 114 Galbreath Drive, has been named to the dean's list for the fall semester at Brown University. A sophomore, he is a graduate of the Lawrenceville School.

Arthur R. Buckland, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Buckland, 312 Prospect Avenue, has been elected president of the Syracuse chapter of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He has also been elected to Tau Beta Pi, an engineering honorary fraternity. He is in his senior year at Syracuse University, where he is majoring in electrical engineering. He is a graduate of Princeton High School.

New Jersey Secretary of Agriculture Phillip Alampi, Titusville Road, Pennington, received the honorary American farmer degree of the Future Farmers of America, the highest honor awarded to an adult by the organization. The degree was conferred upon him for his many contributions to the FFA.

Thirty years ago, while a student at Glassboro High School, Mr. Alampi received the American Farmer Degree, the highest award that can be made to an active member of FFA. He is the only resident of New Jersey who has received both degrees.

He has been N.J. Secretary of Agriculture since 1956. For 10 years prior to his appointment, he conducted farm and garden radio programs in New York City. Before that, he had been a vocational agricultural coach at Woodstown High School.

He has served as president of 32 organizations, including the National Association of State Departments of Agriculture.

Dr. John A. Wheeler, the Joseph Henry Professor of Physics at Princeton University, has received the Franklin Medal of the Franklin Institute. The medal, awarded annually since 1915, is presented to "a worker in physical science or technology — without regard to country — whose efforts have done most to advance a knowledge of physical science or its applications."

One of the first American scientists to concentrate on nuclear fission, Dr. Wheeler worked at the University of Copenhagen in 1934 with Niels Bohr, the eminent Danish physicist. In 1939, a year after he joined the Princeton faculty, he was co-author with Bohr of the original paper on the mechanism of nuclear fission. During World War II, Dr. Wheeler made fundamental contributions to the development of both the atomic and hydrogen bombs.

In recent years his research concerns have included cosmic ray, physics, studies of atomic nuclei and elementary particles, general relativity and gravitation.

Ronald Gendaszek, a teacher of Russian and French at Princeton High School, is one of four American teachers who recently arrived in Moscow as part of a teacher exchange program sponsored by the school affiliation service program of the American Friends Service Committee and the Ministry of Education of the Soviet Union.

Three Russian teachers will spend the two months of the exchange program in the United States, observing classes, teaching and conferring with teachers of Russian in American schools much as their counterparts will do in schools in Moscow and Leiningrad.

The exchange program has been in operation since 1961-62 and has been carried out within the framework of the U.S.-U.S.S.R. Cultural Exchange Agreements.

Walter S. Goodale, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Dudley Goodale, 259 Shadybrook Lane, has been named to the dean's list at Colgate University for the spring semester. He is a pre-medical student.

gaa playing at small clubs in southern California when he was still in his teens. Now a ripe 22, he has cut four albums, starting with "Tim Buckley" in 1966.

"THE WHISPERERS"

With Dame Edith. A lonely old woman living on relief in a slum is the character portrayed by Dame Edith Evans in the British film, "The Whisperers" to be shown at McCarter next Tuesday at 8 in the International Film series.

Dame Edith won the New York Critics and Berlin Festival Awards as best actress of the year for her performance in "The Whisperers."

In the film, the old lady is convinced that noises constantly whisper around her. To combat her loneliness, she invents fantasies, and some of them have disasterous results.

NATIONAL BALLET

First Dance Event. George Balanchine's "Serenade" will be one of the works on the program when the National Ballet of Washington opens the McCarter Princeton Ballet Society dance series on Sunday, November 16 at 3 p.m.

The company, under the direction of Frederick Franklin, consists of 70 dancers and orchestra. Single tickets for the Princeton appearance are now on sale at McCarter's box office.

Season subscriptions for all five dance appearances are still available. The other four companies are Canada's Royal Winnipeg Ballet, The Alvin Ailey American Dance Theatre, the American Ballet Theatre Players and the Princeton Regional Ballet.

MISICAL SPOOF DEBUTS

At Rider College Theatre. Little Mary Sunshine," the musical spoof on the Nelson Eddy and Jeanette MacDonald duo, will be the first Rider College Theatre '59 production of the season. The performances will be October 17, 18, 22, 23 and 24 at 8p.m. in the Rider Fine Arts Theatre. There will be a special matinee on October 25. The performances Friday, October 24, and Saturday, October 25, will be staged as part of Rider's homecoming weekend.

The Theatre '59 production will feature in the title roles Melanie Williams of Kendall Park and Raymond Gill from Landing. Miss Williams won plaudits a year ago for her Theatre '59 performance in "Once Upon a Mattress."

Among other featured performers in the all student cast are Judy Gibson, Carlo Altomare, Rich D'Amelia, Ellen Greene, Frank Carri, Michael Gallagher, Michale Piatkowski and Gerry Treacy.

Directed by Dr. John F. Hruby, the production will have Carl Schwartz as musical director, Clyde Tipton, choral director, Charles Kempster, designer, and John Scharpe, choreographer.

Ticket information can be obtained by contacting the Rider student activities office.

PLAYHOUSE

Me, Natalie (now playing) Patty Duke, who played Hellen Keller in "The Miracle Worker" and Neeley in "Valley of the Dolls," is cast in this film as an ugly duckling who is at transformed into a swan but learns the hard way that beauty is only skin deep.

"I've Got To Be Me" could be her theme song. She moves out of her Brooklyn home to Greenwich Village to "find herself," which she ultimately does when a married architect who would rather be a painter falls in love with her.

"Me, Natalie" is a woman's film. Patty Duke is very good at delivering the wisecracks with which Natalie fends off pity and condescension. Nancy Marchand is perfection as her mother — a woman who can instantly interpret and trues to appear that she does not.

Salome Jens, as the shady lady who becomes engaged to the heroine's uncle, has a final scene in a night club dressing room that is very moving. The male cast, Martin Balsam and James Farentino, fare less well.

PRINCE and TRENT

Sweet Charity (now playing) Shirley MacLaine, supported by a notable cast, in a spirited, lavish musical extravaganza. She is dance-hall hostess Charity Hope Valentine and her heart is pure gold. Someday someone will come along who will love her. She has been keeping a man who robs and jilts her, and she's naively grateful when a movie star, played by Ricardo Montalban, picks her up casually, but finally she meets a shy, straitlaced insurance actuary (John McMartin)—and she tells him she works in a bank.

Comedy alternates with maracara-stained tears. Miss MacLaine has a big specialty number with Sammy Davis Jr. as a highlight. It's a big, tune crammed film.

GARDEN

The Learning Tree (thru Sunday) Coming as it does at this juncture in the status of race relations, this film by famed Negro photographer journalist Gordon Parks can not be appraised simply as a movie. It is an affirmation of faith by its maker—not only in America itself, but in the possibility of blacks and whites coming to an understanding and moving purposefully ahead together in the building of a better life.

The film is beautifully photographed in color. The competent cast is composed of newcomers and veteran character actors. Kyle Johnson is the young Parks.

"The Learning Tree" is remarkable for the absence of bitterness. It is a testament of good will. Gordon Parks also wrote the impressive musical score.

Young Torless (starts, Mon.) The book on which the film is based, though written long before the Nazi era, explores the possibility of sadistic strang men asserting complete domination over the weak, and acting as a spearhead to arouse the primitive instincts of a whole group and direct them against the victim or victims.

The film follows the book very closely. The story takes place in a German boys' school where the protected, self-questioning young Torless is placed by his doting parents. His close companions are virile, dominating types, far more mature and more calculating than he.

He watches a sadistic beating and torture, not exactly detached, but, as he explains later, trying to decide at what point good stops and evil begins.

The light by which we see

In a dark room we see very little — though it may be full of beautiful things.

Sometimes the world itself seems dark, full of problems of every kind. But, just as a room can light up with the click of a switch, one's world can brighten when he turns to God for help.

Noel D. Bryan Jones, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will show how an understanding of God can enlighten one, help to free one from sickness and lack, and improve personal relationships.

Admission is free and everyone is welcome.

The Empty Box. It Tells You A Lot About Our Toys.

It has no batteries. No bulbs. It doesn't make or destroy anything. Yet children spend hours toying with an empty box. How come? Because they don't see it as an empty box. It's a house. It's a car, a space capsule, or a jet. It's anything your child wants it to be. Most of all, it's an opportunity for him to let his imagination roam. With no rules to follow. Nothing to break.

Creative Playthings, founded by educators years ago, actually makes toys that come close to being empty boxes. More rugged. Made of materials that take rough handling. But most important, toys that stimulate imaginations. Take our indoor gym house. Your children will climb on it, slide on it, hide in it and dream their own dreams. Or our "discovery" toys that teach even pre-schoolers the principles of optics, sound, color and nature.

There are hundreds of Creative Playthings toys for all ages at all prices, and most not available anywhere else. Experts in child development and educators help us design our toys. And, they turn out to be our best customers. Over 45,000 schools, from nursery to junior high, have Creative Playthings toys and learning materials in their classrooms.

If you're tired of toys that bore easily and break even more easily, come into our store. Or call the special free number listed below for other fine stores near you. If you'd rather shop at home, call the same number or write for our new Free Catalog with all our classic Creative Playthings toys and many new designs. TO SHARE FACULTY

At Princeton aad Rutgers. Princeton and Rutgers Universities have agreed on an exchange teaching program designed to make more effective use of the specialized faculty resources at both institutions. Under the agreement, arrangements will be developed for faculty members at each institution to teach a course upon request at the other institution as a part of their regular teaching load. The teaching load at their own school will be reduced accordingly.

The sharing of scarce, specialized resources by the two neighboring institutions will be for economical reasons among others, avoiding unnecessary duplication of resources. In addition, various educational authorities have stressed the possibilities of enriched teaching programs through shared use of faculty.

Participation in the exchange program will be on a voluntary basis, worked out through the chairman of the participating faculty member's department. The costs of transportation are to be met by the requesting institution.

In planning and budgeting for the program, the two schools will establish each year a single salary figure for each professional rank, related to the combined salary for the rank at the two universities. The supplying institution will be credited and the requesting institution debited with approximately one-fifth of that annual figure for each course taught at the other school.

Faculty will have "Visiting" added to their titles when teaching a course at the other university. The salary, benefits, and other terms of employment of a professor will continue to be the sole responsibility of his home institution.

TOWN VS. GOWN STUDIED

By University. To advance mutual respect and understanding among diverse groups on campus and with the town, Princeton University has established a Committee on Human Relations.

The chairman of the committee, assistant dean of the college Dr. Carl A. Fields, has been directed by President Robert F. Goheen to pay special attention to circumstances that contribute to racial tension and the sources of tension which involve university students and youth of the area.

The group will develop institutional policies in these areas and will develop means of implementing these policies. Currently under study are the patterns of university facilities usage by non-university community residents. The goal of that study is to determine how the university can join with other local institutions serving the public to provide maximum availability of facilities for community residents.

TWIRLING CLASS SET

By Recreation Department. Girls baton twirling classes will be offered free to girls in grades two through eight residing in the Borough or Township of Princeton. Sponsored by the Princeton Recreation Department, the classes will be held each Wednesday afternoon from October 15 through December 17.

No previous twirling experience is necessary for the sessions. Girls in grades two through five will meet from 1:15 to 2:15, and girls in grades six through eight, 2:30 to 3:30. The participants should bring their own batons or they may purchase one after registration. For further information on these lessons, call the Recreation office, 921-9480.

Why I Plan to Vote

REPUBLICAN

By John F. McCarthy Jr.

John F. McCarthy Jr., 80 Westcott Road, is a partner in the Princeton law firm McCarthy, Bacsik, Hicks and Dix. He was Borough attorney from 1958-62 and served as president of the Princeton Democratic Association. He was a candidate for Township Committee in the early '50s.

Ever since I first voted twenty-five years ago, my ballot has never strayed from the solid Democratic column. During these years, I worked for numerous Democratic candidates, ran as one myself, acted as President of the Princeton Democratic Club, and twice voted for Robert B. Meyner as Governor of New Jersey. Only last week in this column, I urged fellow Princeton residents to vote for the Democratic candidates for Borough offices.

However, this year's gubernatorial race rises above mere partisan politics. New Jersey needs a man of unique ability and of exceptional character to lead this State into the '70's, and only such a man could persuade me, for the first time in my life, to vote for the GOP candidate, William T. Cahill is that man.

It is unfortunate that personalities and invective, rather than issues alone, have been injected into this campaign, but enough of the merits of the contest emerged to impel to me to the conclusion that Congressman Cahill offers the more rational and comprehensive approach to the problems of New Jersey.

I support Bill Cahill because of his position on, and involvement in, three basic issues, namely, organized crime, education, and our cities.

Rhetoric will not solve the problem of organized crime in New Jersey. In 1953, Robert Meyner said, "I am interested in placing behind bars the underworld hoodlums who have taken over New Jersey government." Yet in 1968, after fifteen years of Democratic government, Henry Ruth, former special attorney in the organized crime division of the U.S. Justice Department said, "Official corruption in New Jersey is so bad, organized crime can get almost anything it wants."

Mr. Meyner's expressions of interest and sporadic investigating committees, which are largely ignored by the Chief Executive, have not and will not rid New Jersey of organized crime.

Bill Cahill, offers a new perspective and comprehensive plan to deal with this plague. His proposals include a new State Department of Justice, twenty-one new county prosecutors, effective implementation of the recommendations of the State Commission of Investigation, and consumer boycotts of enterprises proven to be tainted by underworld influence.

Of course, no one can totally eradicate all crime, whether it be individual or organized crime, but we can and must do better that the known performance, or the lack of it, tendered in the fifties and to date.

Second, although New Jersey is the 7th wealthiest state per capita, in the Union, we are among the last in per capita aid to higher education. This problem is not new. In 1953, the fact that one-half of our children went outside the state to college was stressed by Mr. Meyner as part of his then successful gubernatorial campaign. Yet today, this situation has not improved and it still remains true that one half of our students are forced to leave the state to seek higher education.

Bill Cahill offers dynamic reform in all phases of our

DEMOCRATIC

By R. Morton Darrow

R. Morton Darrow, 137 Hickory Court, is a vice-president of the Prudential Insurance Company of America. He was Mercer County Chairman in 1968 of Citizens for Humphrey-Muskie and is serving, this year, as campaign manager for the Princeton Township Democratic ticket.

I am going to vote for Robert B. Meyner for Governor because of the man, his record and his promise.

I have known Bob Meyner for 20 years. In that time — serving as State Senator, Senate Minority Leader, Governor and civic leader — Meyner has been consistently decent, incorruptible, hard-working, dedicated and compassionate. When he first became Governor, he insisted that all appointments to State office have these same characteristics. Meyner destroyed the previous tradition, honored by both Republicans and Democrats, of "no-show" jobs, where public officials came to the office only to pick-up their pay.

It was this act—more than any other—that brought about the enmity of Republican and Democratic party bosses. Meyner's independence was asserted in countless ways to establish his image as an "unbossed" public servant — an image that remains untarnished.

Meyner's record — in or out of public office — is one of outstanding achievement. He became Governor as the result of a wave of public revulsion against disclosures of corruption involving high Republican officials. Governor Meyner cleaned house and in his eight years in the State House, there was never a breath of scandal.

Meyner's programs — in mental health, conservation, transportation, high education — were progressive and well-administered. He was in advance of his constituency, but not so far ahead as to be ineffectual. Today, few of his critics remember the public outcry that greeted his early efforts to bring about badly needed fiscal reform.

It seems ironic that the major thrust of the campaign against Meyner is being levelled at his record out of public office. Meyner is a fine lawyer and his firm has represented "blue chip" companies, large corporations and other members of the establishment. By some strange and perverse reasoning, his success as a lawyer is now claimed to be a blot on his career.

It is the breadth of Meyner's experience that makes him so eminently qualified to be our next Governor. In spite of his busy law practice, he found time to serve on numerous public commissions and study groups. When he left the State House, he did not leave behind concern for public issues.

It is the promise of what lies ahead that makes his candidacy so exciting. Rarely have the voters of New Jersey had the opportunity to chose a man so well qualified to lead them. His experience is needed to inform the public and win their approval for badly needed programs in a wide range of public issues.

State politics have long been marked by unusual pettiness and bickering. Bob Meyner has the independence and strength to rise above the Trenton mire and give us the leadership necessary to meet the problems of the 1970's.

Why I Plan to Vote

REPUBLICAN

By M. Starr Northrup

Over the past several years the Republican mayor and Township Committee of West Windsor have been alert to the needs of our community and its citizens.

What is more important, they have taken intelligent action to meet these needs in effective ways but still within the limits of reasonable tax income. Our municipal government is debt free and we have the lowest tax rates in Mercer County.

William Flock is the Republican candidate for Township Committee in the upcoming election November 4. He is a man who can help carry on and implement the forward-looking program of the incumbent Committee.

He has lived in the Township for over 25 of his 46 years and operates a successful farm. Since agriculture is still a very important part of our local economy, Bill Flock's election to the Committee provides balance in a community that is rapidly shifting to light industry, research, and residential. His long standing interest in West Windsor is illustrated by active participation in our recreational, church and public school affairs.

The Republican candidate for tax assessor is Frank Rogers, manager of contract services for McGraw-Hill. He is a Korean War veteran. His education (Princeton High and Trenton State) and work experience qualify him well for this important job in our township.

In addition, Frank is already taking a course in tax administration at Rutgers University. This will qualify him as a certified assessor. This training and certification will be required by law in 1972. In the recent past we have had to bear the cost of hiring outside consultants to assist and advise the tax assessor. Having a trained man to handle this job should reduce considerably these outside expenses.

For the reasons given above I will vote for Bill Flock (Township Committee) and Frank Rogers (Tax Assessor) in the West Windsor Township election on November 4. I believe they are the best qualified men for the respective jobs and I urge West Windsor voters to give them serious consideration.

DEMOCRATIC

By Selden D. Bacon

I have been voting in local elections, first in Connecticut and then in New Jersey, for just short of 40 years. This is the first time I have ever made a public statement, written or verbal, about any candidate.

I think I usually had pretty good reasons for voting for this or that person. This time I have more than "just' specified reasons; this time a whole pattern of feeling about government in general and about the needs of West Windsor as a whole backs up specific reasons with emotional conviction on a far more basic level.

I am going to vote for Ted Peck, a candidate for the West Windsor Township Committee. One reason, plus strong feeling for this choice is that I am against having all 5 Committee members representing one political party, and I don't care which or what party it may be. The one party system of government may have its defenders, but I am utterly opposed and I think most Americans the country over agree.

Second, all of us know that honest, efficiency, experience and the like are required in all policy making bodies at all times. These times, however, for West Windsor have a particular over-riding characteristic which demands more. That characteristic is growth, a rapid growth, a growth more complex and one occurring in a more complex larger society than was or could have been the case 100, 50 or even 20 years ago. This demands a sensitivity to change and trained, experience, and energetic capacity for responding to that change in terms of a total community.

I think Ted Peck as chairman of the Parks and Recreation Committee and as a member of the Township Planning Board has shown those traits. His business experience has been in the field of applied data research.

I have been disturbed by various actions and perhaps even more by some non-actions of the town's one-party governing Committee, some "little" things, some "big" things.

Tht failure to support industrial development, creating increased "ratables," sometimes out of land enjoying even privileged tax status, should raise more than "eye brows" among the residential taxpayers no matter what their national political affiliation. The recreational planning as, for one instance, the swimming pool incident, shows in a sad fashion the low priority or concern about anti-pollution planning, the lack of control over "exceptions' to zoning restrictions. All these suggest that two party representation and that the election of a young man, experienced in planning, sensitive to the growing problems of West Windsor would be an enormous asset to this community. I think they suggest this very, very strongly.

I haven't said much about Eleanor Dearborn who is running for tax assessor. Of course I'm going to vote for Eleanor She has training and experience in town planning, in real estate (12 years), and has served with the County Library Commission, the Princeton Council of Community Services and the West Windsor School Board (8 years).

She knows the town and its needs and has specific technical knowledge for the position of tax assessor. I can't quite see the reason for getting excited about this unless some one seriously thinks there's an alternative. Thank Heaven she agreed to run.

ISRAELI ART SHOW READIED: A comprehensive Israeli show and sale reflecting the trends of Israeli art today will be held October 26 at the Peddie School in Hightstown. Shown left to right are Mrs. Leonard Levine, exhibit display coordinator, Mrs. Ira Leff, chairman of the art show, and Mrs. Steven Schor, correspondence chairman. The show is sponsored by the Hightstown-Roosevelt Chapter of Hadassah and will benefit the Hadassah Medical Organization in Israel.

ISRAELI ART DISPLAYED

Benefit Show. The Hightstown Roosevelt Chapter of Hadassah, in cooperation with the Murry S. Greenfield Gallery, Inc., of New York City and Tel Aviv, Israel, will present a comprehensive Israeli art show and sale that will reflect the trends of Israel art today and also depict the growth of the nation. The exhibit will be held in the Fireplace Room of Wilson Hall, Peddie School, Hightstow, on October 26, from 1 to 6 p.m.

Various media will be displayed such as oils, watercolors, gouache, and woodcuts. Works of several Dizenghoff prize winners, the Dizeghoff being the highest award for art given in Israel, such as Reuven Rubin and Ruth Schloss, will be presented at the show and sale.

Of added interest at the exhibit will be art objects of stone mosaics, an ancient art of arranging differently colored pieces of natural stone now having its rebirth in Israel. Several plaques are replicas of ancient coins dating from the first and second centuries A.D. Also on display will be mosaic candle sticks and menorahs.

European painters who arrived in Israel between the two World Wars have influenced and taught the present generation of Israeli artists. Clearly, this present group of mature artists is infused with the history, aura, and mystique of Israel. Many were born in Palestine or came there at an early age and have derived their inspiration from kibbutz life. These artists, who are involved in the life around them, reflect as individuals the many facets of this small but diverse land.

All proceeds of the art show and sale go to the Hadassah Medical Organization, a comprehensive program of healing, teaching and research in Israel. Mrs. Leonard Levine is the coordinator of the exhibit. She has shown work in the Art Institute of Chicago, the Museum of Modern Art in New York, and the Fleisher School of Philadelphia.

CHALK TALK PRESENTED

By Elton C. Fax. The Princeton Art Association and the Studio on the Canal are jointly sponsoring a chalk talk by Elton C. Fax who combines his words and pictures to communicate to his audience his view of the ordinary people of Latin America, Africa and black Americans. Set for Friday at 8:15 p.m. at the Unitarian Church, the $1 admission will be used to raise funds to send students from the Youth Center to art classes at the two sponsoring studios.

Mr. Fax has been active in the U.S. Department of State's educational exchange program. He has traveled in South America, the Carribean, East Africa and the United Arab Republic. He has presented his chalk talks for the "New York Times" children's book program, and for students and professional art groups while traveling abroad. He has illustrated 27 books and has exhibited in museums in New York, Baltimore, and Washington, D. C.

He is the author of "West African Vignettes," and is a contributor to the International Library of Negro Life and History. He has served as a special correspondent of "The New York Age," and has been sent to Nigeria as a lecturer-demonstrator in secondary schools and universities.

PHOTOGRAPHY AS ART

In Stieglitz Lecture. The Art Museum, Princeton University, will present the second lecture in the series of Alfred Stieglitz Memorial Lectures on Photography on Thursday, October 23, at 8:30 p.m. in McCormick Hall 101.

Beaumont Newhall will discuss "Photography from 1900 to 1941: The Search For New Directions." Mr. Newhall, Director of George Eastman House, Rochester New York, is a universally recognized pioneer in establishing photography as a fine art, and was one of the first to organize photographic exhibitions on an international scale.

A direct result of Mr. Newhall's work was the establishment in 1940 at the Museum of Modern Art of the department of photography as a fine art. It was founded with the support of David H. McAlpin and the assistance of Ansel Adams. Mr. Newhall has just completed a book, "The World from the Air and Outer Space."

The Princeton lecture series has been conceived and is being underwritten by Mr. McAlpin.

educational system. He recognizes that mere conformity breeds mediocrity. A revitalized State Department of Education and concentrated efforts to funnel more federal money to local boards of education are of paramount need for New Jersey and will command top priority with Bill Cahill.

Third, closely connected to both organized crime and education, is the crisis strangling New Jersey's cities. Disturbances in our cities and alienation of large segments of our citizens have marked the past sixteen years.

Bill Cahill has outlined a program combining public achievement of private enterprise in order to attack this problem, which has been the object of indifference for so long. Governmental expenditure will be channeled towards expeditious, efficient accomplishment of the following: construction of low income housing, a state home ownership foundation to provide imaginative financing of home ownership, and a system of mass transit and rapid rail system with access from city centers, or so-called "core cities," to interstate arteries.

Given initiative by the public sector, private enterprise would be called upon to invest capital in home improvement and new industry for the creation of new employment and ultimately to achieve the good of all.

Our citizens, particularly blacks, need more meaningful government assistance, which Bill Cahill would provide. To inject a personal note, I have always been struck by the commitment and sensitivity that Bill Cahill tenders racial minorities, whether in public or in private.

In asking you, fellow Princetonians, to vote for Bill Cahill, I am also asking you to help decide some of Princeton's Stockton Street residential characteristics for the next four years. I sincerely hope that Robert B. Meyner will remain a Princeton resident but remain on Olden Lane, and I look forward to welcoming to the local gubernatorial curtilage a man of personal warmth, sincere interest, and pleasant humor. . .Bill Cahill.

CANDIDATES FOR GOVERNOR

QUESTION: Please comment on the problems confronting the State of New Jersey in the following areas: Fiscal Crisis, Crime Control, Environmental Pollution and Urban Crisis and indicate possible solutions.

WILLIAM T. CAHILL, Republican

Born 1912. St. Joseph's College B.A., Rutgers South Jersey Law School L.L.B. Attorney-at-Law, Cahill, Wilinski, Coruzzi and Suski. Admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the U.S. American Bar Association, New Jersey Bar Association. Member of Congress, 1958-69. Camden County Assemblyman, N. J. Legislature, 1951-53. Headed Heart Fund. Committees for Muscular Dystrophy, Boy Scouts, Catholic Charities, Bishop's Ed. Committee, etc.

FISCAL CRISIS — "During the past 16 years, New Jersey's taxes, debts and budget expenditures have skyrocketed. Despite this, the Democratic Administration has failed to make substantial progress in solving our most urgent problems. I am, therefore, convinced that continuing financial mismanagement has prevented the public from receiving its tax dollars worth. If New Jersey is to meet the challenges of the 70's, I believe the following approaches must be pursued: — broaden Federal tax sharing, as established by the Cahill Amendments to the Federal Omnibus Crime bill; — development of an increased tax ratable base through decisive State programs; — reorganization of the local property-State tax structure through a tax convention; — economy in government through comprehensive planning and efficient budget procedures. In short, my top fiscal priority as Governor would be to insure a public which is already overtaxed, confronted by rampant inflation, and bewildered by where and how its money is being spent, that it will receive its tax dollars worth. However, I would not hesitate to take any responsible steps necessary to meet our State's critical needs."

CRIME CONTROL — "As a former FBI agent and County Prosecutor I am shocked by the paralyzing effects of crime in New Jersey. The Democratic Administration's inability to combat organized crime has been widely documented; a Presidential commission terms our State a 'core area' for the 'mob'. Statistics show that criminal syndicates have forced our citizens to steal in order to support drug habits, and to pay off loan sharks and bookmakers. Systematic traffic in narcotics threatens our youth. I am convinced we need 21 new Prosecutors, a new Attorney General, and a Republican Governor, if we are to uproot organized crime and change FBI statistics which rank New Jersey's increase in major crime as sixth in the nation. Certainly new leadership is required to initiate new programs, to enforce existing laws and to relieve local police of duties not related to law enforcement."

ENVIRONMENTAL POLLUTION — "As our nation's most urbanized and densely populated State, New Jersey is increasingly threatened by environmental pollution. In my judgement, statewide and regional standards for water and air quality must be implemented and strictly enforced. Utilization of nuclear power requires our State and Federal governments to devise farsighted plans regulating radioactive and thermal discharges. Moreover, the inadequacy of municipal sewage facilities convinces me that the $271 million bond issue for water quality improvement should be approved. In brief, our State's anti-pollution efforts must be sharply increased if our present growth is to be sustained, and if our future generations are to be given a livable environment."

URBAN CRISIS — "The solutions to New Jersey's urban crisis must be found in innovative approaches not timeworn precedents. I would therefore classify New Jersey's urban problems into two categories; the critical needs of the disadvantaged family, and those involving the long range restructuring of the physical city. To meet the immediate needs of the disadvantaged family, I would seek reform of the welfare system and expansion of vocational education opportunities developing job skills. I am convinced that restructuring the cities will require overall tax reform to reduce the regressive property tax and revitalization of the industrial economic and tax ratable base. Priority should be given to construction of mass transit systems if long range development is to be sustained."

ROBERT B. MEYNER, Democrat

Born 1908. Lafayette College, A.B. Columbia University Law School, L.L.B. Lawyer. State Senator, Warren County 1948-52. Governor 1954-62. Chairman Meadowlands Study Commission. Chairman Joint Legislative Commission of Redistricting and Reapportionment. Member Governor's Select Commission on Civil Disorders. Member Commission to study what should be done as to Seton Hall Medical School. Co-chairman N. J. Branch Interracial Council for Business Opportunity. Member President's Commission for the Observance of Human Rights Year 1968.

FISCAL CRISIS — "The needs of New Jersey in education, transportation, health and other essential fields require increased State resources. The next Governor must exert firm leadership in meeting our clear and undeniable needs.

Of special importance are the serious financial problems of our hard-pressed communities. Increased State aid for these urban, suburban and rural communities is imperative if the burden of our local property taxpayers is to be reduced and if the entire range of grave municipal problems is to be alleviated. Before we undertake any major new revenue programs, it is imperative that we accomplish a real reform of our present antiquated tax structure. In conjunction with such reform, I am firmly committed to provide this kind of increased State aid and to provide sound and efficient administration of our present and new State programs."

CRIME CONTROL — "The problems of organized crime and crime in the street both demand top priority attention. The attack on organized crime requires, first of all, leadership that is determined to root out racketeers and leadership that sets an unmistakable standard of integrity in government and in the prosecution of the war on crime. This is the kind of leadership that I think I was able to provide as Governor and that I seek to provide again.

The war on crime also requires crucial legal tools — such as State regulation of the garbage industry — that the Legislature has refused to provide. I shall work hard for these tools and for the best possible men to implement them.

To attack crime in the streets we require local police forces that are better paid, better trained, better organized and better coordinated among themselves and with the State Police. I shall press for a far stronger State effort to achieve these goals, which are essential to the safety of a citizen's life and the protection of his property."

ENVIRONMENTAL POLLUTION — "Our next Governor must be acutely sensitive to the threat of environmental pollution, and he must accord the highest priority to anti-pollution and conservation efforts. I pledge to press with utmost vigor our efforts to control air pollution, for the lives of our people depend on it.

I strongly support the Pure Water Bond Issue that will appear on the November ballot. This program is essential to abate the pollution of our water-ways and to provide adequate water supply for our people and industries.

I firmly pledge to oppose resolutely such reprehensible anti-conservation measures as the giveaway of the State's priceless tidelands to private interests, as attempted by this Legislature."

URBAN CRISIS — "The severe problems of our cities extend also to many of our fast growing suburbs and to some rural communities as well. Their solution requires a far more substantial response than the Legislature has yet been willing to make.

Clearly, we must insist on sound programs and effective use of State assistance in our hard pressed communities. But what we most require is the will, the commitment, to face up to the full range of urban problems that are weakening scores of our municipalities.

As a member of the Select Commission on Civil Disorder, I examined these problems intensively for six months. The Commission Report set forth the kind of action in many sectors — education, health, housing and others — that I believe we must have."

CANDIDATES FOR STATE ASSEMBLYMAN (6A)

Term of Office: 2 Years | Salary: $7,500 | Vote For 2

QUESTION: What would you as a state legislator do to relieve the burden of the local property tax?

WILLIAM E. SCHLUTER, Republican (Incumbent)

Age 41; 205 So. Main St., Pennington. Economics major, Princeton University. Businessman and State Assemblyman. Assembly committees: appropriations, federal and interstate relations. N. J. Assembly representative to: Senior Citizens Tax Study Commission, Obscenity Study Commission (chairman), County and Municipal Government Study Commission, N. J. Historical Commission. Pennington councilman, council president, Pennington Volunteer Fire Company, Hopewell Valley Association for Equal Opportunity, Stony Brook-Millstone Watershed Association, Princeton PeeWee Hockey program (coach).

"New Jersey residents suffer an inordinately high property tax, extremely severe in urban areas and on senior citizens. This devastating tax must be relieved by a substitute or other taxes. I favor restructuring all state taxes through tax reform. This reform should make all taxes equitable by leveling off property tax rates and providing sufficient state aid for expected increases in medicaid, school aid, welfare, and county judicial costs. Tax reform can only be achieved by a "blue ribbon" appointive commission, a special convention or an extraordinary session of the legislature which is dedicated to solving our total tax problem on a non-partisan basis. When considering alternatives, one must evaluate the possibility of a state income tax. Above all, we must develop a balanced program that will modify, change and even implement new revenue sources."

KARL WEIDEL, Republican

Age 45; 0 Weidel Drive, Pennington. Duke University, Rutgers Law School. President, Karl Weidel Inc. Insurance, Real Estate and Travel Agencies. Mercer County Freeholder, Freeholder committees: Department of Public Buildings (chairman), Highway, Bridges, Engineering, Planning; Liason Freeholder with: County courts, county clerk, county surrogate, sheriff's office prosecutor, jury commission, board of elections. Member, Mercer County Economic Development Commission; Past president, New Jersey Association of Independent Insurance Agents; Former director, Mercer County March of Dimes, Member of: Trenton Lodge Elks, Carver Branch YMCA, Greater Trenton Chamber of Commerce, Hopewell Valley Association for Equal Opportunity.

"As a current Freeholder, I am intimately aware of the oppressiveness of the property tax, and I also realize that economies can be made in government. As an assemblyman, I could continue to search for these savings."

"There should be a revision of our tax structure by a blue-ribbon appointive committee, a special convention or a non-partisan legislative session. Although I am not of the moment in favor of an income tax, I would support such a tax if changes in our present tax structure indicate this is the only available source. The services required for our citizens dictate that all taxes must be equitable — this applies equally to our present taxes and new sources of revenue that might be required."

ARCHIBALD ALEXANDER, JR., Democrat

Age 36; 61 Westcott Rd., Princeton. B.A., Princeton University, LL.B., Harvard Law School. Attorney-at-law. President, Central N. J. Chapter National Multiple Sclerosis Society. President, Mercer County Morrow Association on Correction, First vice-president, Board of Managers, N. J. State Prison, Member of Family Court Study Commission, Member of N. J. Welfare Council Legislative Committee, Executive Committee, Friends of Public Education in Princeton, Member of committee on the Second Regional Plan, established by Regional Plan Association, Trustee, Fund for the Princeton Youth Center.

"Major relief can only come from increased state and federal aid in areas such as education, welfare, roads. I would fight for the necessary legislation, including new measures to raise revenues which treat all fairly and are graduated in accordance with ability to pay. The burden must also be more widely shared. I would support, for example, substantial payments to municipalities in lieu of taxes on state-owned land which is now exempt. Transfer of functions to higher levels of government, particularly from municipal and county to State, if otherwise desirable, would provide additional relief: for example, health services and hospitals."

PAUL L. SOLLAMI, Democrat

Age 38; 11 Seven Oaks Lane, Trenton. B.A., Villanova University, LL.B., J.D., Georgetown Law School. Attorney-at-law. Mercer County Legal Aid Society, Juvenile Conference Committee, Co-chairman, Mercer County Heart Association in Ewing Township, Charter member, Ewing Township Jaycees, Former board member, Soccer Youth Association, Former board member, Little League Association, Member Boys Town of Italy Drive, Attorney, Zoning Board of Adjustment, Trenton, Delaware Valley United Fund Drive.

"As a State Legislator concerned about relieving the burden of the local property tax, I would favor a fair and equitable graduated State income tax; I would strive to initiate and develop new sources of revenue; I would strive to eliminate waste in government; I would endeavor to set up a committee to serve as an overseer of the monies that the State presently receives from its various sources; and, in addition, I would suggest a tax study commission to study the entire tax structure of the State and I would favor a program of priorities giving the most important State projects the greatest amount of attention."

CANDIDATES FOR MERCER COUNTY FREEHOLDER

Term of Office: 3 Years | Salary: $9,000 | Vote For 2

QUESTION: What do you feel will be your principal concern as a Mercer County Freeholder?

JOHN P. SCOZZARI, Republican

Age 36, 620 River Road, Trenton, N. J. Lawrenceville School, William and Mary, Marshall-Wythe School of Law (B.C.L. and J.D.). Currently, Counselor at Law. Past pres. and chairman of board, Trenton Jaycees; board of managers, Trenton Family Neighborhood Health Center, Inc.; board of governors, Helene Fuld Hosp.; past pres. and life trustee Delaware Valley Rehabilitation Center, Inc.; Fermi Federation; The Two Thousand Men of Achievement in the World, 1969; founding trustee, Jaycee Summer for Kids; general advisory committee, Mercer County Community College; National Panel of Arbitrators, American Arbitration Assoc.

"The administration of county government in the best interest of all residents in a financially prudent, yet publicly responsive manner. Our people cannot long withstand unchecked spiraling tax burdens which produce programs offering small remedy for the problems. Many municipal services can benefit under the cooperative sponsorship of county government or through joint municipal efforts; for example: incineration, public transportation, health services, and vocational education. Another concern would be a careful study of the State of New Jersey County and Municipal Government Study Commission Second Report, April 28, 1969, and implementation of the recommendations pertaining to County Government playing an increasing role in a revitalized and strengthened local government system and the granting to counties of substantial self-determination so that county and municipal offices can shape government to meet local needs."

CLIFFORD W. SNEDEKER, Republican (Incumbent)

Age 38; 92 Smithfield Avenue, Trenton, N. J. Trenton High School, Poe's Institute of Insurance. Currently, Insurance Broker-owner, Snedeker & Son Insurance Agency Elected Mercer County Freeholder, 1967; chairman, Dept. of Correctional Institutions; member, Mercer County Board of School Estimates for Community College and Vocational School; Mercer Co. Economic Development Commission, Labor Relations Committee, Dept. of Finance Committee; board member, Lawrence Twp. YMCA; American Legion Post 458; Lawrence Rd. Volunteer Fire Co.; committeeman, Lawrence Twp., 1961-67, Lawrence Twp. Board of Health, 1961-67; chairman, Board of Public Assistance, Lawrence Twp., 1961-67; pres., American Business Club, Trenton, 1960.

"My principal concern as a current Freeholder is to relieve some of the tax burden now imposed upon the local municipality for certain services that could be better performed under County Government. Incineration, bus transportation, vocational education, and various health services can be better performed on a joint venture at much less cost if they are operated through County Government. I feel that it is a responsibility of the county to try and help local municipalities meet the ever increasing demands of their citizenry by offering the benefit of the combination of these and many more services at a cost far less than at present."

PETER W. RADICE, JR., Democrat

Age 41, 917 Park Avenue, Trenton, N. J. Trenton High School, American Institute of Banking. Currently, Vice-President, Ewing Bank and Trust Co. U.S. Army 1950-51. President, Mercer Co. Cancer Soc.; Pres., N. Trenton Babe Ruth League; Pres., N. Trenton Little League; treas., Trenton Jr. Chamber of Commerce; City Fund chairman, National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis; Sec. and executive board, Trenton UNICO Club; first vice pres., executive board, Camp Fire Girls; executive board, Boy Scouts, Geo. Washington Council; board member, Italian-American Civic Club; Director of Public Relations, Trenton Boys Town of Italy; capt., Delaware Valley United Fund; board of directors, United Progress, Inc.; Director, Model Cities Committee; board of directors, Theater in the Park; chairman; Columbus Day Observance Committee.

"To implement a total thinking that will help satisfy small and large areas in Mercer County. To resolve problems that may be County wide, there must be more concern for the requests first, then, study of this problem with the solution being resolved by a majority of the total community and not the best interest of any one municipality. This can best be achieved by meeting with the elected officials on a regular monthly basis to create better understanding of all our problems on TOTAL THINKING. County needs in the areas of public health, police work, rescue squads, senior citizens' housing, and more recreation for young and old can be resolved only with total thinking."

JOSEPH E. TIGHUE, Democrat

Age 37, 78 Cranbrook Road, Trenton, N. J. Trenton High School, Rider College, Rutgers University, Glassboro State Teachers College. Currently, President, Tighue Realty Co., real estate and insurance broker, professional appraiser, instructor real estate course at area schools, Active Jaycee, 10 years; helped organize Hamilton Jaycees, former chairman of numerous committees; Hamilton Library Commission; John Fitch Way Relocation Committee; chairman, Heart Fund; past pres. Hamilton Art Group; past vice-pres. and director, Mercer Co. Realtors; active in Voter Registration, Adult School Program.

"To work toward making County Government more responsive to the needs of our citizens. The County is becoming more involved in programs that affect the lives of thousands of residents. Programs like a Community College, narcotic treatment center, vocational training, public transportation, waste disposal, and expansion of many existing facilities. As this trend toward regionalization continues, it becomes more important that our Freeholders remain alert to the thinking of the people they represent. As a Freeholder, I would be concerned with determining the needs of Mercer County citizens, and transforming those needs into action. It is important that we work together if we are to build the kind of County we all want."

CANDIDATES FOR PRINCETON BOROUGH MAYOR

Term of Office: 2 Years | Salary: $500 | Vote For 1

QUESTION: Will you work for municipal consolidation within your term of office or do you favor continuing the present municipal structures?

ROBERT W. CAWLEY, Republican

Age 46; 10 Westcott Rd., Princeton. B.S. Mechanical Engineering, Lehigh University. Assistant Director, Research Administration, Western Electric Engineering Research Center. Member, Executive Board, Urban League of Metropolitan Trenton. First Vice chairman, Princeton Chapter American Red Cross, Chairman of Founding Committee of Princeton Red Cross Blood Program — Group Plan, Vice President — Budget Chairman, Princeton United Community Fund, Job Fete Committee, Member 1970 American Red Cross National Convention Committee on Nominations.

"I regret current tax rates make municipal consolidation impractical. I believe consolidation is desirable. Consolidation should help solve some present Borough problems—since many go beyond Borough boundaries.

I would not ask for consolidation if Borough taxpayers would be shortchanged. A hope is increased Township ratables will improve the tax situation. I would insist that plans be well made and general voter support achieved.

The variety of forms of municipal government should make it possible to find a form for the consolidated government that would be responsive to the needs of all.

For now, I support combining all municipal function where practical."

ALICE L. MALE, Democrat

Age 45; 76 Cedar, Princeton. B.A., Math, Russell Sage College. Secretary-treasurer and manager, Male Bookshop. Housewife and mother. Recipient of 1969 Community Service Award — Council of Community Services. Member and past president of High School and Borough P.T.A.'s. Member and past president of adult board — Princeton Youth Center, Founding member of Nassau Cooperative Nursery School, Founding member of Youth Employment Service. Member and past chairman Y-teen committee of Princeton YWCA, Member Borough Council 1969.

"I favor consolidation of the two Princetons as soon as the Borough taxpayers will not suffer greatly from such consolidation. To that end, I shall work to combine services that can readily be combined and seek new structures and new legislation, if necessary, to achieve the goal of one government for the Princeton community as soon as it is possible and economically feasible to do so."

CANDIDATES FOR PRINCETON BOROUGH COUNCIL

Term of Office: 3 Years | No Salary | Vote For 2

QUESTION: Will you work for municipal consolidation within your term of office or do you favor continuing the present municipal structures?

CHARLES CORNFORTH, Republican (Incumbent)

Age 57; 71 Westcott Road, Princeton. B.S., Electrical Engineering, University of Tennessee, M.S., Electrical Engineering, M.I.T. Assistant Industrial Relations Manager, Public Service Electric and Gas Company, Newark, N. J., President Borough Council 1969 and Chairman of Finance Committee of the Council, Advisory Committee on Electrical Engineering curriculum for Mercer County Community College, Tutor in Princeton Study Center, Dilley Committee on Consolidation of Borough and Township — Public member and Chairman of Finance and Municipal Administration Committee.

"During my past three years as Borough Councilman, I have tried to give substantial weight to the effect on our municipal taxes when making council decisions where taxes are a factor.

Applying this principle to your question I find that, had we been consolidated during the last few years, the Borough taxpayer would have been required to raise, on the average, approximately $300,000 additional each year through property taxes.

In the face of this requirement, I cannot work toward consolidation at this time since, under present conditions, it is decidedly not in the best interest of the Borough taxpayer."

CHRISTINE D. ST. JOHN, Republican

283 Prospect Ave., Princeton. University of Hawaii. Treasurer, office manager of local architectural firm, Tax Collector, Borough of Princeton, Housewife-mother. Member, Hospital Fete Committee and Council of Community Services.

"I believe that many of the community goals and ambitions are thwarted and frustrated by the existence of two governments. I also believe that an elected official should be responsible to and conserving of his constituents' interests. Therefore I will work for any and all forms of municipal cooperation which can be achieved without increased burdens on the citizens."

ROBERT M. HENDRY, Democrat (Incumbent)

Age 44; 15 Chestnut St., Princeton. BB.A., St. John's University, New York C.P.A. courses, Sobelson's Institute, Graduate courses, New York University. Finance Manager, RCA Corporate Office. Director, National Association of Accountants; Past president, Trenton Chapter; Organizational chairman, Princeton chapter. Member, Regional Development Association — charter member. Serves on Loop Road Committee. Assistant District Commission, Boy Scouts of America. Publicity Chairman, Princeton Chapter, American Red Cross. RCA representative to West Windsor Township Committee; Planning Board member. Borough Council Police and Fire Commissioner, member of Finance Committee, Public Safety Committee, Public Housing representative.

"I will work now for merger of municipal services where ever it is clearly evident that the well being of our total community is best served. Economies and improved services can be had through the continued program of functional consolidation of such services as health, welfare and parks administration. A completely unified Princeton is desirable but poses a more complex problem that must rest primarily on a yet to be achieved equitable economic structure."

MARTIN P. LOMBARDO, Democrat

Age 28; 329 Nassau Street, Princeton. Liberal Arts major, Trenton Junior College, Business Administration major, Rider College. National Youth Affairs Director for the National Multiple Sclerosis Society Princeton Jaycees Hospital Fete chairman, Assistant District Commissioner, Boy Scouts of America, Deputy Commissioner, Princeton Human Rights Commission, Vice president, Mercer County Chapter Morrow Association on Correction, Vice president National Multiple Sclerosis, Central Jersey chapter, New Jersey YMCA's State Wide Youth and Government Committee, Princeton Playground Assistant Director.

"Rush-Failure to Act! Borough Government has been delinquent initiating affirmative action concerning drugs, adequate housing for senior citizens, youth, traffic and taxes. At the same time, government has rushed into programs without adequate information to make efficient decisions. Inefficient government has burdened our citizens with rising taxes.

Likewise I could not promise to support or reject consolidation without sufficient data to insure that it would be in the best interests of all the citizens."

CANDIDATES FOR PRINCETON TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

Term of Office: 3 Years | Salary: $1,000 | Vote For 2

QUESTION: Will you work for municipal consolidation within your term of office or do you favor continuing the present municipal structures?

DEAN W. CHACE, Republican

Age 42; 67 Leabrook Lane, Princeton. B.S., Engineering, Princeton University, LL.B., Temple University. Manager in International Licensing Department, RCA. Budget Committee, Princeton United Community Fund, Member and Chairman Joint Recreation Board.

"I will work for consolidation with the conviction that it is the single best thing we can do for Princeton. This conviction is based in part on my experience with our joint recreation programs, including the Community Park pool and tennis area which would simply not be possible without the Township and Borough working together for the common good. There is just one Princeton and we should confirm this by establishing one efficient and well managed local government."

JOHN D. WALLACE, Republican (Incumbent)

Age 36; 100 Braeburn Drive, Princeton. B.A., Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs, Princeton University. Vice President, Trust Division, First Trenton National Bank, Princeton Township Committee, Mayor, Princeton Township, Member, Princeton Township Planning Board, Trustee, Princeton Hospital; Princeton Joint Public Library, Princeton Youth Fund.

"I will continue to work for consolidation because of the long range benefits it will provide for our community. For the past three years as a member of Township Committee and prior to that as a Planning Board member, I have supported cooperative Township-Borough ventures. The logical and necessary extension of these programs is total consolidation. Through consolidation we can best meet the challenges facing our community in such fields as health, planning, traffic, drugs, youth and housing."

RICHARD I. BERGMAN, Democrat

Age 35; 106 Balcort Drive, Princeton. B.S. & M.S., Engineering, M.I.T. Vice-President and Director, Systemedics, Inc., Princeton, N. J. Vice President, Princeton Community Democratic Organization, Finance Chairman, 1968 Democratic Campaign Committee, Former Tutor, Princeton Study Center, Past president, New Jersey Section, American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

"Consolidation will benefit the residents of both municipalities, but has not yet been 'sold' to them because it is a complex issue not yet made clear. Unequal tax rates are cited as preventing consolidation because they are easy to talk about. A realistic appraisal of the effect of consolidation on a variety of vested interests is in fact the key to an affirmative consolidation vote. Township Committee should actively lead the effort."

GOLDA GOTTLIEB, Democrat

Age 50; 24 Lake Lane, Princeton. B.A., University of Chicago. Editorial consultant, Princeton University (part-time). League of Women Voters, Princeton president; chairman of state convention; chairman of regional planning for state board, Trustee, Princeton area United Fund, Member, Princeton Association for Human Rights, Co-chairman, People-to-People Visits, Director, Princeton Community Homemaker Service Board, Member, Regional Plan Association, Volunteer urban agent, Urban Studies Center, Rutgers University, Director, member of executive committee, chairman of public relations and education, Middlesex-Somerset-Mercer Regional Study Council.

"I believe that only with municipal consolidation can the Princeton community plan rationally the use of its land and provision of services in the coming period of growth. Government leaders must diligently point out the greater effectiveness in the use of the tax dollar that will result. Until municipal consolidation is achieved, I favor a Joint Planning Board and Joint Board of Health, and area-wide cooperation to provide better services at possible cost savings."

CANDIDATES FOR WEST WINDSOR TOWNSHIP COMMITTEE

Term of Office: 3 Years | Salary: $1,000 | Vote For 1

QUESTION: In your opinion, what are the three most important problems facing the Township Committee NOW, and in the next FIVE years?

WILLIAM E. FLOCK, JR., Republican

Age 46; R.D. 4, Trenton. Graduated from Upper Freehold Township Regional Schools. Engaged in general farming.

"Meeting the needs of our citizens, while trying to keep our tax burden from becoming any greater thinking of our Senior Citizens with fixed incomes.

"Water pollution and sewage disposal are becoming problems. The proposal of a disposal plant in the near future should help but creates many problems."

THEODORE A. PECK, JR., Democrat

Age 45: 11 Glenview Drive, West Windsor Township, N. J. B.A., Math, University of Virginia, Manager, Princeton Computer Center, Applied Data Research, Inc., Advisory Committee to the Planning Board, West Windsor Township Planning Board, Chairman, Parks and Recreation Committee.

"West Windsor deserves a Township Committee which is imaginative, forward-looking and responsive to the needs of the community. We are faced with increasing traffic congestion and danger at busy intersections. Commercial development along our main thoroughfares needs to be carefully controlled. We must encourage more imaginative design of residential developments, and preserve our few remaining wooded areas. During the next five years the whole quality of our environment can be eroded beyond recall if we lack responsible leadership.

THE VOTE AND 18-YEAR OLDS: Since 18-year-olds are subject to the draft they should have a say in the politics of the country because politics governs the draft. Question Of The Week

Question: Are you in favor of or opposed to the Nov. 4 referendum that would give 18-year-olds the right to vote in New Jersey?

Where asked: Around town.

Thomas Gribbin, Trenton, sales manager, Eldridge Buick-Pontiac, Route 206: I'm in favor. Legally, they have the responsibility of adults; they're subject to the criminal code. They're also subject to the draft at 18 and therefore should have a say in the politics of the country because politics governs the draft.

Mrs. Mary Wisoovsky, 125 Clover Lane, housewife: I'm in favor of it because I think at this time 18-year-olds are much more aware of what's going on; they're much more attuned politically. Certainly they are much more aware of what I was when I was 18. Since youth is such an important part of our society — or its taking an important part today — I think they ought to be allowed to vote. I'm definitely in favor of it.

Richard Sickel, Fairless Hills, trust department Princeteon Bank and Trost: I'm against it. I think they really haven't had a chance to form their own opinions. They're guided more by the opinions of their parents and their teachers. Once they get out in the business world, their attitudes can really change. I know mine did.

Mrs. Clarice Stoll, Baltimore, teacher at Johns Hopkins University. I'm just visiting here but I'm very strong in support because in recent years the educational system has made our youngsters much more sophisticated than they were several generations ago. I teach college and I've seen a definite change in jost the past five years. I think today's 18-year-olds would be competent in judging the issues, and would be conscientious voters.

Elton Ayres, Trenton, janitor, Princeton University: I'm in favor. If you are old enough to go in the service, you are old enough to vote. I think this is a pretty reasonable assumption.

Jim Chianese, Lawrence Township, construction worker: My opinion right now to tell the truth is that the way kids have been acting today is that they don't have a head on their shoulders. The way they walk around here . . . half doped up . . . this generation hos really changed. The kids today aren't like the kids 18 a few years ago. I don't think 18 is the proper age to let them vote. I think you should wait until they are more mature.

Paul Debevec, Lawrence Apartments, graduate student, physics: I'm definitely in favor. A few years ago, someone gave me an argument against the old statement — If you're old enough to fight, you're old enough to vote. He said such reasoning was completely invalid. I wish I could remember how he put it because right now his argument doesn't seem to have a chance. There's a lot to be said for it today. We ask 18 year-olds to be highly responsible members of society yet on the other hand we deny them their fran chise. Maybe this is why they feel so estranged; they have no responsibility. It's another person's system.

Harold Riml, Old George town Road, graduate student, physics: I'm in favor. We hear if anyone is old enough to die he is old enough to vote. I think that is true. Any one called upon to die for a country should have a say in who runs it.

Mrs. A. C. Graves, 803 Princeton - Kingston Road, hoosewife: I would say in favor. I feel if you are old enough to be inducted in the army — which is a very serioos thing — then you are certainly old enough to make the serious decision of voting. I think they would do a good job of voting. I really and truly feel that way Of course you will always find a few who won't but you find that in any group. I think the vast majority of 18-year-olds are very capable and serious-minded young people.

Byron Crandall, Kendall Park, officer, Cousins Co. In favor. Education is a lot more advanced than it was 20 years ago. The 18-year-old is a lot more edocated today. That's one reason. Another is if a person is qualified for the draft at 18 he should also be qualified to elect the people who are drafting him. He should have a voice in government.

TIGERS HOME AT LAST

Face Colgate Saturday. Not since the war-torn year just a quarter-century ago has a Princeton football team waited as late as mid-October to play in Palmer Stadium. Shortly after the end of the 1943 season, the Tigers cancelled their eight-game schedule for the following fall, later booking three relatively informal contests for a team of naval trainees and opening against Muhlenberg, somewhat ironically, on Armistice Day, November 11.

After three straight road games, dictated by the logic of playing the centennial contest at the site of the first one in 1869, Princeton will take the field here Saturday against Colgate. The 2 p.m. kickoff is the last at that hour on the schedule, with all future games set to start at 1:30.

Those who have been traveling with the touring Princetonians have noted steady improvement from week to week as last Saturday's 24-17 conquest of winless Cornell raised the Tiger record above the .500 mark. In the first six quarters this season, the rebuilt offense failed to produce a point; in the next six, it has produced 45, plus welcome, although hardly convincing victories in the first two Ivy League games of the season.

The Orange and Black's continuing problem is one that had not been anticipated when initial evaluation of its prospects was made. With ten lettermen as starters on defense, and good depth at a number of positions, the Tigers had been expected to dominate opponents weaker than themselves. Instead, they yielded a touchdown to punchless Columbia while the game still hung in the balance and then were bailed out of a quick deficit at Ithaca only because the steadily improving offense came along to take charge.

Ithacans Start in a Hurry. Equipped only with a topflight sophomore running back in Ed Marinaro, Cornell covered 30 yards in half a dozen plays after recovering a Princeton fumble, forced the visitors to give up the ball again and then rolled 72 yards in 11 plays to lead, 14-0, with less than 12 minutes gone. Two minutes gone. Two minutes later, in a situation no worse than third and eight just short of midfield, the Tigers chose to quick-kick despite their two-touchdown deficit. The lack of belief in their own attack, plus Cornell's quick success, made it appear that the 47-13 rout on the occasion of Princeton's last visit to Ithaca might well be repeated.

The quick kick gained no yardage on the ensuing return boot by Cornell, but Scott MacBean's passing accuracy began to make trouble for the Red's defense, and the Tiger quarterback took his team 69 yards in nine plays for its first score. Four completions on the drive were good for a total of 54 yards, the TD coming when tailback Brian McCullough banged through the middle from three yards out.

Next time they got the ball — this time 72 yards away — the Tigers gave their first real indication of the manner in which their attack will move when at its best. They needed just five plays to go the distance, McCullough getting his second touchdown when he ran the final 29 yards off left tackle, using a fine block by Chris Montgomery to perfection.

With the defense steadily paring down the rushing efforts of the heavily-used Marinaro (of his 155 yards gained, 84 came in the first period),

PARKING AND HOUSING?

WE'RE LOOKING FOR A WAY TO SOLVE OUR PROBLEMS — NOT AN EXCUSE TO IGNORE THEM!

HENDRY FOR COUNCIL

MALE FOR MAYOR

LOMBARDO FOR COUNCIL

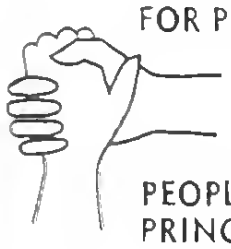
Parking and housing are major Princeton problems.

A solution now under study promises to:

1. PROVIDE MORE DOWNTOWN PARKING.
2. PROVIDE HOUSING FOR FAMILIES OF MODEST INCOME.
3. PAY FULL TAXES AND GENERATE NEW REVENUE.

PRINCETON FOR PEOPLE



PEOPLE FOR PRINCETON

The proposed downtown parking-apartment project can achieve these goals. We need more housing and more parking, and increased municipal revenue. We insist that such housing must not cause a burden on borough taxpayers, and such parking must pay its way. We want a lot more answers before we vote — answers about location, financing, construction problems and social impact. We'll take a long, hard look at the final proposal. But we're looking for a way to solve our problems, not an excuse to neglect them.

THIS IS THE WAY IT WENT: Trenton sophomore Mike Battle is enroute on a 20-yard carry to the Princeton High School 25 in the second quarter. Nearest PHS defender is Lawrence Parker at far right. Trenton backs ran for more than 275 yards Saturday in toppling Little Tigers 35-8. (Staff Photo)

Sports In Princeton

and the continuing difficulties Cornell was experiencing in completing passes, it was apparent that the Tigers had the upper hand at half-time despite the 14-all score. Less than four and a half minutes after play resumed, they had taken the lead for good on Arnie Holtberg's 31-yard field goal and midway through the third period, MacBean capped a 60-yard march by going over from the six.

That closed out the Tiger scoring, and while the defense yielded a Cornell field goal early in the final quarter, it kept the losers outside the Princeton 40-yard line for the remainder of the action. All of the final five minutes saw the ball in the Tigers' possession as they rolled for four consecutive first downs in a welcome display of authority.

More than anything else, Saturday was the day that senior Scott MacBean proved he could handle the assignments of a T quarterback. It started as inauspiciously as is possible, with a fumble when he waited too long to pitch out on the very first Princeton play from scrimmage, but by the time it was over, he had a number of eye-filling statistics to reflect his adeptness.

During the half that saw the Tigers erase the two-touchdown deficit, he was 10 for 13 in completions. He finished the day with 18 for 27 and 246 yards — the second largest total posted by Princeton since the Ivy League went formal in 1956. Only the 258 yards that Jim Mottley gained in the air against Harvard that year outranks MacBean's showing.

In three games, MacBean is 40 for 69, a fine 58 per cent average that reflects a combination of his accuracy, numerous good catches by his receivers in the last two outings and topflight protection while he sorts out his targets. Against Cornell, he also contributed much to the offense through the frequent use of automatics after a different play had been called in the huddle.

It is worth noting, too, that six of the 18 passes MacBean completed went to 5-7 Rob Bordley, undoubtedly the smallest lineman to play for Princeton in many, many years. His 148-lb. frame also serves as solid blocking equipment in the split end position he plays.

Eventually, the threat that MacBean posed in the air opened up the Cornell defense so that the Princeton running game prospered. The Tigers ran for only 65 yards in the first half but added another 131 in the final two periods. The interference leading the runner is often too slow, however, and wide sweeps still see the ball carrier nailed from behind as he is about to turn the corner.

Nonetheless, there has been steady improvement for the third week in a row, and the 176 yards gained rushing against 246 passing indicate a highly satisfactory degree of balance. It is essential, however, to keep in mind that this Cornell team is off to a worse start (0-3) than last year's, which finished 3-6, and that accordingly the Tigers' one-touchdown margin was recorded against an opponent which will do well to escape the league cellar.

QUICK LOOK AT COLGATE

OFFENSE: Tends to sputter, although starting backfield has good speed and experience. Passing of quarterback Steve Goepel not up to par.

DEFENSE: Has allowed average of 28 points in first three games as sophomores have filled holes left by graduation.

CHIEF ASSET: Running attack that features several good ball carriers.

CHIEF PROBLEM: Inexperience, aggravated by cancellation last week of Holy Cross game.

TYPE OR ATTACK: T with I and flanker variations.

Colgate Definite Underdog. Although both Colgate and Princeton have defeated Cornell by approximately the same margin, it will be a distinct upset if the visitors repeat their 1968 triumph over the Tigers. They won here a year ago, 14 to 7, as the Orange and Black took the afternoon off to celebrate the previous week's conquest of Dartmouth.

The Red Raiders have lost fairly heavily by graduation, miss veteran quarterback Ron Burton and have had to go to sophomore material to fill a number of key positions on both platoons. In between the 28-24 triumph over Cornell, they began the season with a 21-0 defeat at the hands of Boston University and were then thrashed by Yale, 40 to 21.

Steve Goepel, a 195-lb. junior, is the replacement for Burton, and has found it difficult to move the team through the air. Captain Al Klumpp and Al Pearman are Colgate's top ball carriers, with Don Fischer rounding out the starting quartet. All have unusually good speed.

Five sophomore starters on the defensive platoon tell the story of Colgate's problems in yielding the 85 points it has in its first three games. Topping off the need for more work was the unfortunate cancellation of last week's meeting with Holy Cross after the Crusaders' siege of hepatitis resulted in their discontinuing the sport for the balance of the year.

Princeton, too, is turning toward sophomores on defense, going with four of them at the kickoff against Cornell, but in the Tigers' case, the quartet involved appears to be the wave of the future. The 225-lb. Steve Sikora has the job at left end nailed down, while 204-lb. John Holden has come along fast to displace senior letterman Jim Nixon on the other flank.

Pete Boyle, 205 lbs., has been starting at one of the linebacking posts, and last year's captain, Rod Plummer, was shifted from reserve quarterback to the defensive secondary. All four gave good accounts of themselves.

PHS VS. CEDAR RIDGE

After 35-8 Loss to Trenton. After absorbing an unexpectedly severe — 35 to 8 — shellacking from Trenton High School last week, the Princeton High School football team will try to come back Saturday at the expense of Cedar Ridge.

The prognosis that the Little Tigers will even their record to 2-2 is good. Cedar Ridge is starting its first year of varsity

The 1970 VW will stay ugly longer.

Just what hath Volkswagen wrought this year?

A longer-lasting engine, that's what.

It's more powerful than the old engine. (Top speed: 81 mph vs. 78 mph.)

It has better acceleration.

But most important, it doesn't have to work as hard to get you where you're going.

Thus, according to every calculation known to man, it will last even longer.

And just to make sure the engine and every other VW part leads a long, happy life, we have another surprise for 1970:

The Volkswagen Diagnostic Checkup.

Now before the name scares you away, listen to what it is:

VW Diagnosis is an exclusive service checkup by specially trained technicians using specially made diagnostic equipment.

The equipment is faster and more thorough than any mechanic alive. It's so advanced, it can actually tell you you have a problem early, before it becomes a real problem.

For instance, let's say the resistance in one of your spark plug wires is too high.

Nothing serious, but it could reduce your gas mileage and eventually foul up your spark plugs.

During a Diagnostic Checkup, our equipment can find and we can fix this problem in a matter of minutes.

When you buy a new VW, you're entitled to four of these advanced checkups free.

What could be a better deal than that?

You buy a bug.

We take care of the bugs.

competition and not unexpectedly has found the going tough. It is winless so far, and counts among its losses a 19-0 defeat by Trenton.

The game will be played at the PHS field. Kickoff is 11 a.m.

The battle with Trenton was won by the Tornadoes on the line, where huge offensive linemen tore apart the middle of the PHS line. Along with the ability to open the holes, Trenton had the speedy backs to deliver. It ripped through the Little Tigers for nearly 300 yards on the ground, and the 35 points it put on the board was the highest total for a Trenton team since 1961.

"They were big and blocked well. They played exceptionally well, but I still feel we could have done better than we did," said PHS coach Dick Wood. Immediately after the game he said, "We couldn't score and got worse, and the other team got progressively better."

"We had three scoring chances in the first half and didn't score. If we had, I don't know if that would have made any difference in the game or not," he added.

After watching films of the game, Wood reported: "we saw, defensively, where we have to make some adjustments. We have been stressing play execution but now we are going to have to go back to fundamentals." He also reported that the films revealed that the offensive blocking was poor."

Jackson Goes 90 Yards. Princeton's only score in the game came with eight minutes remaining when Richard Jackson gathered in a Trenton kickoff around the 10 and lugged the ball for a 90 yard return. LouJohn Rossi then flipped to Craig Singer for a two-point conversion.

The visiting Little Tigers had dominated the play in the first quarter and it appeared that Trenton's home opener would end in defeat. A pair of passes from Rossi to Singer and one to Tim Taggart carried to the THS 10. On a fourth and 11 situation, Rossi passed again to Taggart who dropped the ball in the open.

Early in the second period, PHS was driving again and got inside the THS 20. This drive abated when an intended pass to Singer was intercepted by Trenton's Larry Thompson, and after a 15-yard penalty against THS after the swipe, the Tornadoes took over on their own 14.

It was here that Trenton was able to "pick up what your kids were doing" Trenton coach Frank Capraro told Wood after the game, "and match our offensive strength against the weaknesses we found." That weakness was the interior of the PHS line.

Sticking on the ground and hammering up the middle, Trenton's Mike and Jackie Battle alternated for big gains. Then from 11 yards out, senior halfback Oliver Yawn burst right up the middle for the game's first score. Yawn added the first of five perfect placements.

Still it was anybody's game. Trenton was still nursing its 7-0 lead with 4:19 to go in the third quarter. The low key atmosphere, however, changed with dramatic suddenness. From the 34, Yawn hit straight ahead like a bullet. Untouched, he burst clear before the secondary could react and was off on a 66-yard jaunt. From there, it was all downhill for PHS.

Trenton, which was unable to pass before, now was mixing up its attack. Jackie Battle's 18-yard slant off tackle made its 21-0 with nine seconds to go in the third quarter.

The fourth score came when Joe Morton, a reserve back, reversed his field after trying to pass, and threaded his way through the scattered PHS defense for a 26-yard score. A three-yard pass from Alan Scott to Roger Caldwell for the home team's fifth score capped a 70-yard Trenton march following Jackson's TD run for Princeton.

PREP SCHOOLS CLASH

Hun vs. PDS Saturday. Hun School, undefeated in its last 20 games -- there have been three ties—will be a solid favorite to conquer its Princeton rival, Princeton Day School, on Saturday.

The game will be played at the Hun field, starting at 2:30. Previously, the game was important for Hun only from the standpoint of defeating a neighborhood rival. But with the entrance this season of PDS in the Penn-Jersey League, of which Hun is the defending co-champion, the game has taken on added importance.

Hun will enter the contest with a 2-0 record having blanked Perkiomen in its last outing, 13-0. The Panthers, on the other hand, are on the short end of a 0-3 mark, and unless they can penetrate a good Hun defense, which gets better with each game, the chance for an upset appears dim.

That Hun defense held Perkiomen Saturday to minus 19 yards rushing. The closest Perkiomen got to the Hun goal was when it ran a punt back to the Hun 10 in the fourth period. But four plays later, we had them back in mid-field by the time they were finished," commented Hun coach Dave Leete.

Led by defensive end Rich Ziegler, Leete described the defense as "an overall team effort."

Hun halfback Steve Peters, meanwhile, was slashing through the Perkiomen defense for 105 yards. He scored Hun's first touchdown in the first period from five yards out. "He's fast and never quits," said Leete of the 168-pound speedster.

Quarterback Mike Maguire scored Hun's second TD in the final period in a one-yard plunge.

PDS TO MEET HUN

In David-Goliath Match-Up. The Princeton Day School football team, winless in its first three starts, will meet its crosstown rival Hun School, which has not lost a decision in its last 20 contests, at 2:30 Saturday at Hun. An upset is always a possibility, but divine intervention may be needed to help the Panthers pull it off.

Hun, which was tied for the Penn-Jersey League championship in each of the last two years, has won or tied its last 20 games. The Red Raiders are well stocked with talent this year also, going with a line that should outweigh PDS by several pounds per man, and an experienced backfield.

Hue is 2-0 so far this year, whipping Perkiomen, 13-0, on Saturday, and holding the losers to a minus 19 yards rushing. The Blue and White would like to win this game more than any other on the schedule, but its desire will have to be matched by a superlative effort to pull it off.

Needless to aay, the kind of mistakes that cost PDS a victory against Pennington Prep on Saturday will have to be corrected, too. Leading 12-0 in the final quarter, the Panthers gave Pennington two big plays and saw the game slip from their grasp, 14-12.

The first play was a 76-yard touchdown pass from Pennington quarterback Jack Ewing to Tom Wilson. Howie Anderson booted the PAT, cutting the lead to 12-7. The victors then held PDS on downs, forcing a punt, and on the first play from scrimmage, Bob Young broke loose off tackle for a 70-yard scoring play. Anderson converted his second PAT and Pennington led 14-12.

With seven minutes remaining, there was still time for PDS to come back, and it did, right down to Pennington's nine yard line before incomplete passes and a Pennington blitz halted the drive there.

The loss spoiled a generally good effort by PDS. The first half was scoreless, featuring a fine goal line standing by the Panthers.

A pass interference penalty gave Pennington the ball inside the Panthers' five yard line, but four plays later PDS had held its ground. In the third quarter, PDS got moving, taking the opening kick-off and scoring in 12 plays. Sophomore Peter McCandless took the ball over on a run from nine yards out.

Later in the period, PDS tackle Bob Peck recovered a fumble on Pennington's 23-yard line, and the Panthers scored in six plays, with the tally coming on an Eric Heggen to McCandless aerial from four yards out.

CONOVER, MATTHEWS WIN

In Midget Football, Matthews Construction and Nassau Conover Motors each won in opening games of the Midget Football League last week, both by scores of 12-0.

Sunday at 1 p.m. at the Princeton High School Field there will be another doubleheader. Princeton Fuel Oil will oppose the U Store in the opener, and in the second game, Matthews and Conover will decide which one will remain undefeated.

Nassau Conover defeated Princeton Fuel Oil as Mike Diamond carried the ball 10 times for 84 yards and both Conover touchdowns. Kevin Murphy returned a kickoff 55 yards, while Dan Clohossey, Jeff Petrone, Andy Cahill and Murphy were standouts on defense.

Fuel Oil's Pete Barnett completed two passes, one a 14-yarder to Billy Germon. Dave Lions, Eric Ziolkowsky, Blair Thompson, Mark Campbell, Barnett and Germon led the losers on defense.

Robert Wood scored one TD on a 40-yard gallop and Dan Delvecchio scored the other as Matthews completely dominated the U Store. Toni Trani picked off two U Store passes.

Defensively, Nathan Harris, Warren Davis and Trani were cited for Matthews, and Tom Root, Mike Meyer and Jon Videlbeck for U Store.

FRESHMAN COACH NAMED

In Hockey, Jack Ferreira, former plebe hockey coach at the U.S. Military Academy and an All-American goalie during his undergraduate years at Boston University, has been named coach of freshman hockey at Princeton University.

At Boston University the 24-year-old native of Rhode Island, a member of the Class of 1967, was named to the Team for three successive winters and was also singled out for All-East and All-American honors. His eight shutouts in a single season stand as an all-time record for Eastern college goalies.

Following graduation, Ferreira enlisted in the Army and held the rank of Specialist 5th Class when discharged this past summer. While in service he was selected as a goalie for the U.S. National Hockey Team in 1967 and served as plebe coach at West Point from January, 1968, until last June.

In joining Princeton's Department of Athletics and Physical Education, Ferreira, an outstanding third baseman as a Boston senior, will also be—

RULES ARE ANNOUNCED

For Paddle Tennis Courts. The Joint Recreation Board has announced rules and regulations governing the two paddle tennis courts nearing completion at Community Park. There will be a grand opening on October 26 when four national champions will play an exhibition match.

The courts will be available only to residents of the Borough and Township free of charge at all times on a first-come, first served basis except for those hours designated as "Prime Time." At all times, there will be a turnover of players every hour on the hour to insure that each group waiting will have the opportunity to play.

Prime time, as outlined by the board, are the hours 9 to 12 noon weekdays for women; 5 p.m. to 10 p.m. weekdays for men and women; and Saturday and Sundays and holidays for both sexes.

Reservations made during prime time will be honored and anyone playing at the time will have to relinquish the court. Only season ticket holders' requests for reservations will be honored, however.

Season tickets may be purchased by any resident 16 or over for $5 per person. All a season ticket grants the owner is the privilege to make reservations during prime time. There are no other fees involved. (The paddle tennis season for the purpose of season tickets runs from November 1 through October.)

Recreation Director R. Donald Barr explained that the idea behind the $5 season ticket was to help meet operating and maintenance costs of the two courts. The self sustaining approach "is strictly the same philosophy we have on the pools."

Provide Own Equipment. Players must bring their own equipment, although Mr. Barr reported that an attempt would be made to provide some paddles and balls for those under 16. During prime time, adults will be given priority over junior players.

The recreation board anticipates that the courts will receive heavy use. To avoid conflicts as much as possible, a reservation sheet will be posted outside and a master chart kept in the recreation office. Reservations may be made by phone but callers will be checked to ascertain if they are season ticket holders.

Coin-operated lights, which will turn off automatically at 10, will be provided to permit night playing. Whenever the courts are not reserved during prime time, the original rules will prevail; first come, first served basis with players changing every hour.

"We've tried to come up with something that will make the courts available and at the same time not to deny their use to anyone," Mr. Barr said.

Because of the expected crunch, the use of the courts has been limited to Princeton residents. "If we find out they are not as popular as we anticipated, we may change this," he said.

THIRD GAME WON

By Harrison Athletic Club. Three touchdown passes thrown by George Packard led the Harrison Athletic Club to its third victory in a row Sunday in the Mercer County Flag Football League. HAC bombed Ted Dola's, 47-6.

Packard's scoring tosses were to Russ Perone for 30 yards, Willie Hill for 25 and Chester Wooten for 20. Hill also scored on a 35-yard run, and Edgar Riddick added six points on a 40-yard jaunt. Packard also threw five two-point conversions. HAC will meet the Afro-Americans this Sunday at 11 a.m. on Notre Dame High School's lower field.

MORGAN WINS HILLCLIMB

In Century Road Club Race. Thirteen-year-old Jimmy Morgan won the annual bicycle hillclimb of the Century Road Club on the Grand View Hill course near Skillman Sunday. Morgan bettered the old junior record for the hill by 1.2 seconds, finishing in a time of 1 minute, 9.8 seconds.

He won a trophy presented by the Schwinn Cycle Company. Marc Sommenfeld collected a gold medal for winning the 10 year old class, eclipsing the old record by nearly five seconds.

BOWLING NOTES

Foor Tied for Secood. Four teams are tied for second place in the Tri-County Firemen's League at 20-all-after action at the Princeton Recreation Lanes last week — four points behind the leader, Kingston. They are No. 3, Rocky Hill, Princeton Junction and Griggstown.

No. 1 and Lawrenceville are tied for third place with 18 points each while four more teams are all even at 16.

There were seven games over 200 and Robert Mathisen of Griggstown (200-224) and Frank Maddalon of No. 3 (214-200) claimed four of them. Wally Brown rolled 218, Bill Davall 201 and Ray Mount 200.

Jerry Perpetua of first-place Princeton Aviation in the Nassau League fashioned a sizling 671 serjes on games of 212-213-246, Lou Sincak of second-place Kingston Wine and Liquor had 204-203. Others: Mike Pinelli, 214 and Albert Petrella 203.

Tied for third place with 22 points each behind Aviation (27) and Kingston W&L (24) are Harrison AC and First Aid. Grover Lumber has 20.

Stan Sadovy of Nassau-Wright Store in the A league followed an opening 236 with 190-195 for a 621 series. Joe Baldino had 234, and Harry Kahny of first-place Ivy Inn a 227.

At 223 were Bib Cifelli and John Donaldson, Jack Lucy had 222 and Joe Procaccino, 220. Between 215 and 200 were Bud Fowler, Mike Pinelli, Jim Kahny, Dick Fowler, Red Ward, Jerry Perpetua, Bill Murphy and Frank Delneso.

Ivy Inn widened its lead to four, 26-22, over Balestrieri and Leo's Gulf — the latter two tied, as are Princeton Inn and Stefanelli at 20-all for third place. Smith Bindery fell back into an 18-18 tied with Nassau-Wright Store.

In the Business Women's League, Nassau Conover gained six points to move within one, 29-28, of first-place Balestrieri. Rocky Hill Inn has 24, and Griggs Corner 20.

Barbara Picone of Princeton Taxi claimed the high single game of 199 — 61 pins over her average. Jane Rauch of University Cleaners was 52 pins over her average for a 194.

Others: Bea Stalcup, 188; Ruth Bonin, 180; Betty Kleiber, 179; Lillian Burrough, 178; Phyllis Boccanfuso, 177 (53 over); Nina Boyden, 176; Diane Fowler, 173; Kay Carnevale, 171 (44 over) and Peggy Ranallo, 170.

The previous week, Marilyn Murphy rolled a fine 231 — high single game for the league this fall.

DINER GAINS TIE

With Rosso's Cafe. Swift's Colonial Diner gained a 28-all tie with Rosso's Cafe last week in the Princeton Women's Bowling League. Swift's was led by Pat Brown, who rolled 168-165.

Cranbury Bank, which fashioned the high team game and series of 852 and 2323, is in second place with 22 points. High for the bank was Marilyn Murphy, 195-168.

Dot Sanford of Pin Pals fashioned the high single game a 208 — a whopping 86 pins over her average. Teammate Mary Hurlburt had a 161. Marilyn Silvester of Rosso's rolled a fine 204 game on her way to the high individual series of 512.

WE HAVE A BARGAIN! Owners transferred to California and prefer not to leave their lovely Longacres Colonial vacant. It is gleaming white, set in the greenery of lovely lawn and towering trees, some of which are outlined in groups of free form bark lined beds and on a beautiful dead end street. A move convenient 4 bedroom, 2½ bath plan would be hard to find with its fireplace, formal dining room, beamed family room, well equipped kitchen, basement and 2 car garage, on 1 acre. $49,900

JUST LISTED: on a pretty double lot in the Borough We have a 5 bedrooom, 2 bath home with a basement family room. Basically it is not a huge house but its expansion was certainly well planned for housing a goodly sized family. When you weigh all this with its location and price, it is an excellent opportunity for $44,900

The charms of houses built about 1777 would be obvious to those who love them, i.e. 2' walls, deep, deep window sills, wide board floors and massive fireplace. In this case living room is 25 x 13 and family room-dining room combination with fireplace is 24 x 13, with a library for good measure. The 4th dormitory sized bedroom has built in bunks and cupboards aplenty. Large detached 2 car garage could easily become a studio if you have need for such. The challenges are here too — kitchen could be modernized, baths could be spruced up. Lovely and convenient part of Lawrenceville. Reduced to $45,000
